Russian Charge Ridiculed By U.S.

Dares Moscow Let Observers Inside Hungary

Reds Blame Revolt On Outside Forces

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (P)—The State Department challenged Russia today to allow United Nations observers inside Hungary to determine the truth of Soviet charges that the Hungarian revolt was "stimulated from the outside."

Press officer Lincoln White said the Hungarian government "is obviously under control of the Soviet Union" and that with a U.N. inspection "the answer to who stimulated who would become very evident."

U. S. Protest Spurned

Another development today was a blunt Russian rejection of an American protest against massed Soviet tanks "threatening helpless Hungarian civilians" outside the U. S. legation in Budapest.

The U. S. government refused to withdraw its protest.

Russian Charge d'Affaires Sergei R. Striganov had a sharp interview with Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy.

Striganov told reporters he had "resolutely declined" to accept a vigorous American protest made 10 days ago against the action of Soviet tanks in the Hungarian capital.

The American note, he said, is "an unjustified attempt to interfere with relations between Russia and 'the Hungarian People's Republic.'"

Accusation Ridiculed

In turning down the protest, Striganov renewed Russia's contention that the Hungarian rebellion was "stimulated from the outside." Soviet troops have entered Hungary to help "establish order," he said, in response to an appeal from Hungary, an ally under the Warsaw Pact.

White ridiculed the accusation that outside forces had stirred up the Hungarian rebellion, which has been boiling for six weeks.

Striganov refused to tell Murphy, White said, exactly which country was allegedly fomenting the fighting.

White added that a U. N. investigation would show the Hungarian developments constitute a "spontaneous uprising."

Weather Outlook For Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (INS)—The Weather Bureau reported that colder weather than normal will prevail in the next 30 days over northern states between the Appalachians and the Continental Divide.

The 30-day outlook for mid-December and mid-January also forecasts more snow and rain than average over most of the nation except in the northern plains and the southwest.

The bureau said above normal temperatures are expected along the Gulf Coast and in the far southwest.

Hospital Yule Spirit

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Dec. 17 (P)—Christmas spirit should not be lacking at St. Joseph Hospital here this holiday season.

Jack Noel, 25, is recuperating from minor surgery. In the bed next to him is Jack Frost, 16.

Trip By Nixon To Border Of Iron Curtain Cancelled

VIENNA, Dec. 17 (P)—Worried Austrian and American security officials today cancelled a trip to Austria's Iron Curtain border planned by U. S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon is due here Wednesday

Seven Firemen Injured In Explosion

Small Passport Office Stormed By Hungarians

BUDAPEST, Dec. 17 (P)—More than 500 eager Hungarians stormed a small passport office here at its reopening today to make applications for passports to emigrate.

The office reopened after being closed for several weeks and the government promised a new liberal policy for considering applications. This started an immediate rush by the only people with any chance of obtaining passports — the middle-aged and the aged.

Provisions Liberalized

In past years it was possible to apply for such passports, but with little, if any, chance of getting one. Then came the October revolution and the flight of more than 150,000 Hungarians to the west.

Now all men over 55 may apply for emigration and even men 10 years younger, if they have medical proof that they are incapable of military service. The provisions are even more liberal for women. All applicants must present visas, guaranteeing entry to the country they want to emigrate to and certificates proving they are without public or private debts.

White added that a U. N. investigation would show the Hungarian developments constitute a "spontaneous uprising."

Budapest Quiet

Budapest appeared today to have had one of its quietest days since the revolution. All factories appeared to be in at least partial production. Severe coal shortages still hampered many. But sidown strikes appeared ended as workers councils in the factories wrangled for concessions from the government of Premier Janos Kadar.

Reports persisted that negotiations were in the offing to broaden the government by taking in some non-Communists and to prepare the way for dismissal of unpopular Kadar.

The large total yield was attained in a growing season marked by late cold spring weather and drought threats or damage to crops over large areas.

The combined production of crops and livestock products will give agriculture a new record high in total production.

Egyptian Guerrillas Kill French Soldier

PORT SAID, Egypt, Dec. 17 (P)—Guerrillas swung back to the attack on departing British-French forces in Port Said today, killing a French Foreign Legionnaire as he boarded ship.

Legionnaires rushed back ashore from a tank landing ship, flushed out a sniper hideaway and arrested three guerrillas. The legionnaire was the first of the French forces killed this way.

The sniper's rifle shot broke a calm prevailing after a weekend of bloodshed touched off by the ambush slaying of a British officer. British tanks and troops attacked the Arab slum quarter, a guerrilla refuge.

12 Of 13 Packed In Car Die When Train Hits Auto

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 17 (P)—Twelve of 13 persons jammed into one automobile were killed today in the collision of an auto and a fast passenger train. It was the worst accident of its kind on record.

The only passenger of the car to survive is an 18-month-old girl. She suffered a skull fracture and was reported in critical condition.

The dead, all Phoenix residents, were five men, three women and four children. Nine of them were members of one family.

No one on the train, the Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited, was hurt.

The collision occurred just after midnight at a level crossing on the western edge of Phoenix, but no one on the train en route from Los Angeles to Chicago, knew about the accident until the train arrived at Union Station, about three miles away.

Train crewmen then spotted bits of wreckage and flesh on one diesel.

The engineer, D. W. DePriest of Phoenix, said later he recalled feeling a "jar."

Police were told that both the train and the car were traveling at speeds between 70 and 80 m.p.h.

Car 18 Years Old

Wreckage of the car, a 1938 Chevrolet, and bodies were scattered over a wide area. All the victims were thrown from the smashed car.

Most of the bodies were found along a gulch at the foot of the railroad embankment. The body of a woman, weighing about 250 pounds, was found some 300 feet from the wreckage of the car.

Records show that previously the largest number of deaths in a collision of a train and a single automobile was 10 in Colorado in August 1947.

While the ruling was limited to Alabama and Montgomery, it established the law to be followed by lower federal courts wherever the issue may arise again.

Segregation in Montgomery caused a long boycott of buses by Negroes. Leaders of the boycott have announced plans to end it when bus service is integrated.

Jack Owen, head of Alabama's Public Service Commission, said at Montgomery the commission will issue an order designed to "preserve peace and harmony" on the buses. He declined to go into details but left no doubt it would be an attempt to maintain separate seating.

The court also denied today for a second time a petition for review of the trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath who is serving a life sentence for the slaying of his wife. The original denial was announced Nov. 13. Dr. Sheppard's counsel, in asking the second time for a review, contended a "Roman holiday" atmosphere had surrounded the trial.

The FBI was aiding in the search for the gunmen, who took off in Bishop's car but abandoned it about two miles away.

The Bishopss said they were told by the two men that they had been kept under surveillance for a week, with their habits checked daily. Bishop, 34, is one of three bank officials who carries a key to the night depository. He has been with the bank for seven years.

Surgeons Separate Siamese Twin Girls

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (P)—Surgeons have separated Virginia Kate and Teresa Kay Buntion, Siamese twins born four months ago in Tennessee. The girls were joined at the forehead.

The National Institutes of Health announced today that the operation was performed last Tuesday, Dec. 11, at its clinical center at Bethesda, Md., a Washington suburb. It said the babies are "resting comfortably."

The announcement did not say who performed the surgery or give any details.

Eisenhower, Nehru Weigh World Issues

Gettysburg Talks Entirely Personal, Hagerty Declares

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 17 (P)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nehru of India sat down today in rural seclusion and weighed together the problems of a tense, uneasy world.

Suez, Hungary, Red China, military alliances, foreign aid — all these and others were likely topics for the two chiefs of state in the isolation of the President's country mansion.

But details of the specific subjects they discussed, and any meeting of minds or lack of it, may become known only with the lapse of time.

Communique Unlikely

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty labeled the Eisenhower-Nehru conversations "entirely personal." He all but ruled out the possibility of any communique setting out even in a general way the nature of the discussions.

Eisenhower and Nehru drove from Washington to the President's Gettysburg farm this morning. And within minutes after their arrival, they were sitting side by side on the glass enclosed porch, starting in on a discussion which brought Nehru half way around the world at Eisenhower's invitation.

Allowances were made for interruptions for the President to take his customary brief rest before lunch, for a lunch on the porch featuring baked speckled trout, a tour around the farm, and then dinner.

Each Has Small Staff

No other top officials of government were present to intrude on their seclusion, although each was accompanied to Gettysburg by a small staff.

None of these staff members was venturing to say what might come of the discussions at this important and even critical phase of history.

Any fundamental, far-reaching agreements that might help point the way to solutions of perplexing international problems appeared to be somewhat remote. But there were abundant hopes that at least a measure of increased friendship and understanding between the United States and India might emerge.

Segregationist Plea Rejected By High Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (P)—The Supreme Court today rejected pleas by Alabama and the city of Montgomery for reconsideration of its Nov. 13 decision banning racial segregation on local buses.

The court thus disposed of the last preliminary to the sending out of official notice of the ruling.

This notice will be mailed in two or three days to a special three-judge U. S. District Court in Montgomery which ruled that segregation violates the constitution. The Supreme Court on Nov. 13 affirmed that ruling.

While the ruling was limited to Alabama and Montgomery, it established the law to be followed by lower federal courts wherever the issue may arise again.

Segregation in Montgomery caused a long boycott of buses by Negroes. Leaders of the boycott have announced plans to end it when bus service is integrated.

Jack Owen, head of Alabama's Public Service Commission, said at Montgomery the commission will issue an order designed to "preserve peace and harmony" on the buses. He declined to go into details but left no doubt it would be an attempt to maintain separate seating.

Three Air Force Men, Pilot Killed In Alaska Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 17 (P)—A veteran airline pilot and three U. S. Air Force men were killed yesterday when an Alaska Airlines plane crashed near the farthest western point on the Alaska mainland.

The light plane crashed near Tin City, 110 miles northwest of Nome where the Seward Peninsula juts out toward Siberia.

The airline office at Nome said today the pilot was Ralph Libert. Alaska Air Command headquarters said the three passengers were from Ladd Air Force Base. Their names were withheld until their families are notified.

An Alaska Airlines spokesman said bad weather prevented a rescue party from reaching the scene today to get the bodies.

'Bama Elector Refuses To Vote For Stevenson

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (P)—The 531 members of the Electoral College cast their votes today for president, but in Alabama one Democratic elector refused to vote for Adlai Stevenson.

This, then, was the indicated outcome:

For Dwight D. Eisenhower . . . 457
For Stevenson . . . 73
For Walter B. Jones . . . 1
Jones, of Montgomery, Ala., is a Circuit Court judge. He won the vote of elector W. F. Turner, a 65-year old Montgomery accountant, despite the fact Stevenson carried Alabama.

No Restriction

The 10 other Alabama electors voted for Stevenson.

The Constitution gives the electors the right to vote for whom they wish, but only rarely do electoral votes go to anyone but the nominee who carries the state.

What electors over the nation did today was to gather at state capitals to deposit their ballots. Actually, it was for these party electors rather than the candidates that the citizens voted last Nov. 6.

Under the Electoral College system, each state has as many electors as it has members of the House and Senate. The system was set up in the early days of the republic, partly because of the poor means of communication and transportation. It took a long time to complete the popular vote count, whereas electors could be readily determined in most states.

Unwritten Law

Also, framers of the Constitution intended that the electors should exercise their own judgment. Since 1796, however, it has been an unwritten law that each state's slate of electors vote unanimously for the party candidate if the candidate wins the state popular vote.

The next step in the Electoral College system is for the Senate and House to count the electoral votes in a joint session Jan. 7.

Italian Communists Re-Elect Togliatti

ROME, Dec. 17 (P)—Palmiro Togliatti won re-election as secretary of the Italian Communist party today and tightened his control over Italian Moscow-line communism.

He was nearly counted out because of illness 15 months ago. He was under attack for his avowed approval of Soviet intervention in Hungary. But the scholarly politician was returned to office by a unanimous vote by his party's 110-man Central Committee and Central Control Committee named last week at the Italian Communist party Congress.

Higher wage rates became effective in the railroad industry Nov. 1 and the roads asked the freight rate increases on an emergency basis. The ICC allowed this, saying the new rates may be charged after five days notice to the public.

The eastern territory is that part of the country east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers. The 7 per cent increase granted in the East was also applied to West Virginia and much of Virginia.

5-Point Pact Restricts Use Of Red Army

Warsaw Wins Veto Power On Shifting Occupation Force

WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 17 (P)—Poland won veto power tonight over the use of Soviet troops in this country. A five-point agreement sealed with two top Soviet officials also makes Red army men and their families subject to Polish law when they are away from military bases.

The agreement means Russian troops will not be shifted over the country without prior approval of the Polish government. It also means the number of troops and their bases must be agreed upon and this armed force cannot be used to put political pressure on the Polish government.

Talks Start, End Same Day

The speed with which the agreement was concluded caused comment in Warsaw. Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov arrived to open the talks only this morning, less than a month after Wladyslaw Gomulka, Poland's new Communist party boss, visited Moscow and came away with many concessions.

Among these concessions, the fruit of Poland's peaceful "October revolution," was the understanding that Soviet troops would stay to defend Poland's new territories along the East German border, but that their numbers and movements would be subject to a last word from the Polish government.

Disorders Continue

Since then Gomulka has proclaimed a policy of good neighborliness with the Soviet Union, but the Polish press has reported several instances of anti-Soviet demonstrations, particularly in sympathy with the Hungarian rebels.

It appeared the speedy dispatch of the high level Soviet negotiating mission might be connected with these disorders, and possibly also with an impending meeting of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party in Moscow.

Moscow dispatches quoted well-informed sources there as saying the semi-annual meeting of the Central Committee, believed to have been scheduled for today, had been postponed until Thursday and possibly until January.

Woman Is Killed Warning Driver Car In Train Path

Odd British Vehicles Appear With Start Of "Suez" Rationing

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Britain's first day of "Suez" gasoline rationing left some city streets as deserted as a village lane today. It brought strange turn-of-the-century vehicles out of hiding.

In Edinburgh, Harold Marshall perched himself in the saddle of a high-wheeled bicycle from grandma's day and pedaled to his work as a research engineer. Lt. Col. Eric Trevor cantered his chestnut mare six miles to his real estate office in the heart of London.

A London firm used an electrically powered brougham built in Paris in 1900 to transport its directors.

A chain-driven, solid-tired electrical truck of 1922 vintage crept back to work in the Southampton dockyard.

Thousands of Britons left their cars in garages and turned to crowded public transport systems to get to work.

Private motorists obviously were saving their basic ration coupons—good for sufficient gasoline to travel 200 miles a month—for their most essential journeys.

Howls of protest about the gasoline allocation system, coming mainly from truckers and other commercial users, echoed in the House of Commons.

The government introduced rationing to make up for what it estimated was a 25 per cent cut in oil supplies to this country as a result of the blocking of the Suez Canal and blasting of oil pipelines in Syria.

"This is not something that is going on for years and years," said Transport Minister Harold Watkinson. "It is really a very short-term emergency operation."

Lt. Col. Marcus Lipton, a Laborite, charged "a complete breakdown" had developed in the allocation of extra gasoline in London.

A Fuel Ministry spokesman said more than 1½ million applications for extra gasoline were being processed by an overworked staff of 1,600 men and that the job would take about three weeks.

McKeldin Given 31-Pound Turkey

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Maryland Turkey Producers Assn. played Santa Claus today for Gov. McKeldin.

Presley Taylor Jr. of Gambrills, president of the association, presented the governor with a 31-pound turkey for his Christmas dinner.

Also present for the ceremony was Mrs. Howard C. Taylor of Easton, recently named poultry woman of the year by the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council.

"A magnificent bird," McKeldin said. "This is one year I won't have to buy one."

Strikes Against Iraq Policy Hit Arab Countries

AMMAN, Jordan, Dec. 17 (AP)—Arab nations staged paralyzing general strikes today against Premier Nuri Said of Iraq and his policy of standing by the Baghdad Pact.

A 24-hour strike tied up this capital and several other Jordan towns.

Syria followed suit with a day-long shutdown of press, businesses and public enterprises. Police threw a heavy guard around the Iraqi legation in Damascus but an Interior Ministry spokesman said there was no violence.

A similar strike for two hours in Cairo stopped street cars and buses and closed law courts and most of the business district of the Egyptian capital.

The indignation of Arab Nationalists at what they call Nuri Said's "pro-British" and "imperialistic" policies was heightened by his two-hour broadcast from Baghdad last night. The iron-willed 68-year-old Premier declared Iraq will stand firmly with other members of the Baghdad Pact against communism in the Middle East. Iraq is the only Arab state that joined.

Crowds in Amman demonstrated in front of both the Iraqi and Turkish Embassies. Police had to enforce strong security measures at the Iraqi Embassy.

Stalin Mausoleum Speculation Checked

MOSCOW, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Soviet press had a story about what is going on behind the scaffolding of the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum. It has been closed for a month "for repairs" and there has been speculation that Joseph Stalin's body was to be removed.

The newspaper Evening Moscow quoted the foreman of the repair gang as saying the surface of the granite blocks was being polished and the inscription "Lenin Stalin" being restored. Workmen on the project have declined to tell Western reporters what was going on.

This makes it appear Stalin's body will remain alongside that of his mentor despite reports to the contrary.

Accident Causes Injury To Man 35 Miles Away

ADRIAN, Mich., Dec. 17 (AP)—Dennis Dowling, 72, finally found out today the full story of how an auto accident 35 miles away in Ohio caused him severe cuts on both legs.

Last Friday a Wabash railroad passenger train collided with an automobile at Kunkle, Ohio, 35 miles south of Adrian. Two men in the car were injured but the train crew was unaware of the accident.

The train pulled into the Adrian station with the hood of the car jutting out from one side.

The hood struck a baggage truck. The truck knocked down Dowling as he stood on the platform.

Railroad and county authorities investigating the accident came up with the details today. Dowling is recovering.

Police And IRA Fight Gun Duel

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Dec. 17 (AP)—Police and Irish Republican extremists fought a gun battle tonight a few miles from the home of Northern Ireland's Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough.

He dramatically announced the battle on a TV program he was doing in London in his campaign condemning terrorism.

The Prime Minister was handed an urgent telegram on the battle as he stepped before the microphones and cameras. He told British TV viewers:

"An attack on a patrol car is going on at the very moment I speak to you."

One policeman was wounded in the leg by two bullets. Two of about a dozen raiders, whose faces were blackened, were captured. The rest escaped in a truck.

The raiders, described as members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, came from the Irish Republic, authorities said.

Bayonets are thought to have received their name from the fact that they were first manufactured in the town of Bayonne, France.

Gen. Gruenther Sees No Quick Soviet Collapse

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, who led the Western armies guarding Europe, said today it would be "foolish to assume that the dismemberment of the Soviet empire is just ahead."

The former supreme commander of NATO forces gave that advice in a meeting with newsmen during which questions arose about Russia's internal troubles with her empire.

In addition to the continuing military threat of the Soviets and their "implacable" hostility, Gruenther said that in the diplomatic and economic field "we are going to have very, very severe competition for quite some time ahead."

While the general foresees no quick collapse of the Soviet world, he said he does believe that it was a "fantastic mistake" when the Russians used troops to crush Hungary.

Gruenther was asked about published reports concerning disarmament proposals, which arose last week. He said that such speculation "right in the middle of the NATO conference, was not helpful."

The foreign and military ministers of the NATO nations concluded their meeting Friday.

Gruenther said he felt that the meeting was "definitely a step ahead," but that he did not mean that it produced "any miracles."

He said he has "great faith in the NATO organization in spite of strains" to which it is being subjected and that he believes NATO "will come out stronger than ever before."

Village Bank Fund Is Oversubscribed

ELLENVILLE, N. Y., Dec. 17 (AP)—The $1,050,000 needed to reopen this village's largest bank was oversubscribed today. 24 hours in advance of the deadline. The new Ellenville National Bank will open at 9 a. m. Friday.

It will be the successor to the Home National Bank that closed Dec. 4 after a shortage of $1,300,000 was found in its accounts. The president of Home National, 51-year-old William Rose, is held in $35,000 bail in connection with the shortage.

Federal authorities agreed last week to allow a new group to reopen the bank under a completely revised management. The group had until 5 p. m. Tuesday to raise $1,050,000 needed to open. By 5 p. m. today this goal was oversubscribed by more than $40,000.

Some investors bought two or three shares at $32.50 apiece as Christmas gifts for relatives. High school students dug into their meager savings to become small stockholders.

Mass Of Arctic Air Surges Eastward

(By The Associated Press) A cold wave chilled parts of the Midwest Monday and spread eastward.

Arctic air surged southward through Oklahoma and Texas and eastward across the Great Lakes and mid Mississippi Valley.

The mercury skidded to 22 below at Grand Forks, N.D., and then moved up to 10 below at midday.

Del Sisto Elected Governor Of R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 17 (AP)—Republican Christopher Del Sisto unofficially was elected governor of Rhode Island tonight but Democratic incumbent Dennis J. Roberts threatened court action over the validity of absentee and shut-in ballots.

With only a handful of absentee ballots still to be counted, Del Sisto held a lead that Roberts could not overtake.

Chinese Like Action, Not Women In Their Movies

Editor's Note—This is another in a series of stories by David Lancashire who spent six weeks and toured over 5,000 miles in Red China.

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

CHANGCHUN, China — The big Mongolian slumped back in his seat, munched thoughtfully on a roll of salami, and followed Gina Lollobrigida on the movie screen. He was bored.

The Mongolian was one of thousands of Chinese who file into movie houses from morning until night. But they like action and not women. Gina gets in the way of sword fights.

Movie audiences here will watch anything the management sees fit to project onto the bedsheet screen. They line up for hours to do so. Just where the all-day crowds come from in a country where unemployment is supposedly very small is hard to say.

They hold their money in one hand and a big piece of cold steamed bread in the other — to sustain them through the picture.

Down the street from my hotel were the movie house and a life-sized color portrait of Miss Lollobrigida, in glorious contrast to the women in the street, in their baggy boilersuits.

My interpreter booked two seats — at 10 cents each — for the 7 p.m. performance.

So had 1,100 other people, who were storming the narrow doorway and trampling the ticket collector. My interpreter shouted "Soulien, Soulien," which means "Russian, Russian."

A path to the lobby was cleared before you could say tovarich. The fact that I am Canadian and not Russian had nothing to do with it.

"The places are reserved," said the interpreter as he crawled down the aisle on his hands and knees looking at the seat backs.

The screen was a cotton sheet about eight feet square, tucked between two loudspeakers which supplied the sound track and sundry announcements.

"Sit down, comrades, and be sure you're in the right seat," the loudspeaker squawked. "The picture will begin soon."

Somewhere in the building an electric bell jangled, the lights snapped out and Mao Tze-tung appeared on the screen like a master of ceremonies.

It was a newsreel. Mao took part in every event except a ceremony involving a model lathe operator and the opening of a Russian public school.

The picture was a French movie. It was written in France, produced and directed and filmed in France with French actors and an Italian heroine. But the voices all came out Chinese.

Louis XV appeared on the steps of Versailles and mumbled a few words of Mandarin. Cannon started blasting almost immediately. This pleased the audience.

As the smoke cleared, Gina undulated into focus to the accompaniment of a hoarse gasp from the crowd.

"Of course, we would never permit costumes like that here," said the interpreter, gulping at the blouse. "But it's her national dress, I suppose, so it's all right."

Through the mushier parts of the picture, the crowd chewed sunflower seeds, spit on the floor, talked to each other and wandered back to the lobby for more bread. But the action brought cheers like those of children at a Saturday matinee.

As the hero drew his sword and leaped to the roof, cries of lusty approval, stomping of feet and even louder spitting. Babbling furiously in Chinese, he dispatched one opponent after another. The applause mounted.

After eight reels of beating around the bush, the Frenchman mumbled a few tender words into Gina's ear and kissed her. The silence was broken only by the chewing of bread and spitting of sunflower seeds.

Louis XV's last few words in Chinese were drowned out by the bell, and the audience stamped into the street. Within 30 seconds the theater was empty and the new crowd was streaming in.

One of China's two movie-making centers is in this city. The studio is called a film factory — and it works on a five-year plan. Most of China's feature pictures are made here and Chinese sound tracks are dubbed in on East European imports.

I visited a set where a group was shooting a dressed-up propaganda picture about the cooperative movement.

A 20-year-old actress named Pi Lei-tung said:

"I earn 62 yuan — about $27 — a month. Of course, through bonuses and merit awards I can make up to 142 yuan in months when my work is good."

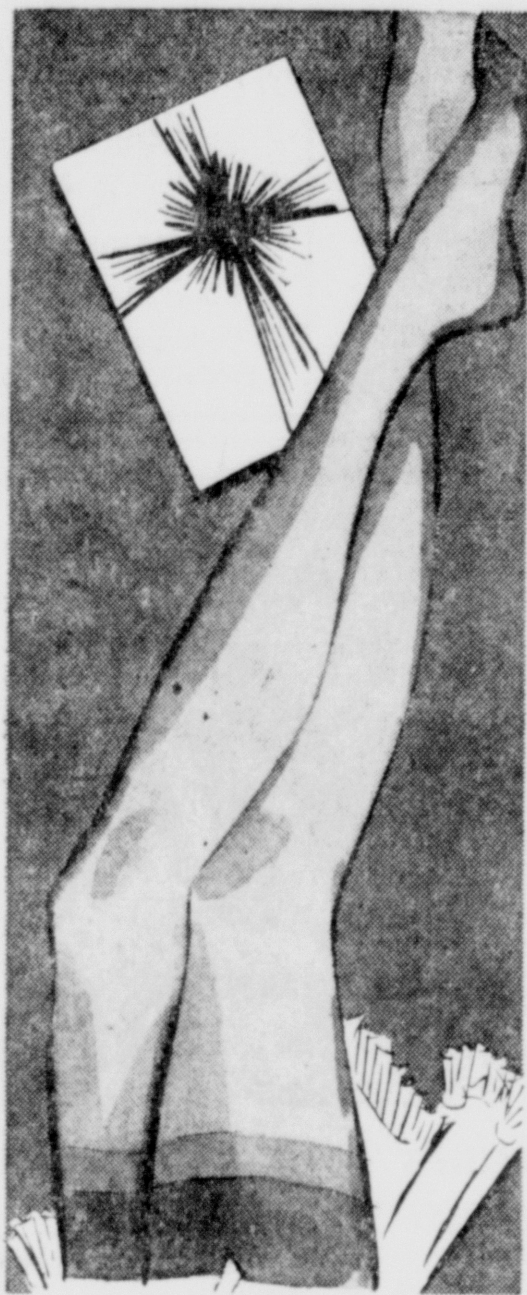

She had played bit roles in three pictures, and was currently playing the lead in "Marriage Problems of a Cooperative Worker." This wrapped up the marriage reform act and the cooperative movement into one film.

"I don't work for money, but to contribute to the state," she said. "Acting should be educational, a means of explaining life to the people."

"Entertainment? That is important sometimes, but the picture must have a meaning or making it would be a waste of time."

NAACP Leader Declares Negro's Tale 'Fantastic'

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17 (P)—A Negro leader today labeled as "fantastic" the story of a Negro who said he was sent to South Carolina by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People "to stir up trouble."

William C. Earle, 31, told his story to newsmen after he was arrested in Cayce, S. C., with a stolen car.

He said he was a member of the NAACP in Baltimore and had been given the mission of returning to Cayce, his home town, for a few weeks to cause trouble by creating segregation scenes on buses and in white restaurants.

Earle said he didn't want to stir up trouble "among the good white people of the South" and fled Baltimore in a stolen car. He said he was "in fear of my life" after dodging another man with whom he was supposed to go south.

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore NAACP chapter, said:

"I can't conceive of any such thing. 'The NAACP is an association of honorable, worthwhile people, both Negro and white, who believe in democracy. We do not encourage crime and delinquency. We oppose crime and delinquency. 'We want our people to be educated so they won't be prone to crime. We are law abiding citizens. We have organizations in each state and each state takes care of its own problems.

"I don't even know this man. I think that is the most fantastic tale I've ever heard."

Robert Miller, police chief of Cayce, said Miller had served two terms in the State penitentiary for auto theft and breaking and entering. Cayce authorities are interested only in the auto theft and are not looking into Earle's statements about the NAACP, Miller said.

Earle said he wanted to be tried on the car theft charge in Cayce and not in Baltimore.

St. Marys Co. Woos Industry

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17 (P)—St. Marys County has laid out the welcome mat for any industries wishing to relocate their plants because of Baltimore's new manufacturers' tax.

Arthur Briscoe, chairman of the county Development Committee, said today he had written several large industries in Baltimore which have said they might move. He also sent them copies of an industrial survey of the southern Maryland county.

The county, "one of the fastest growing counties in Maryland," will welcome any industries desirous of relocating and its chamber of commerce will "work hand in hand" with them, Briscoe said.

He said the county has many advantages—the Patuxent and Potomac rivers for waterway use, good roads, ample land for plant expansion, good year-round climate, good schools and a supply of labor which can be trained for any endeavor.

Modern shopping centers, ample banking facilities, natural recreation facilities, ample electrical current for industrial use and good housing also were listed by Briscoe.

Baltimore recently repealed its full exemption of manufacturers' machinery and inventories from the property tax. The exemption had been in effect since 1918, and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said it had to be repealed to prevent a 25-cent increase in the $3.13-per-$100 tax rate in other property. The repeal made possible a 25-cent reduction in the rate.

St. Mary's County exempts all manufacturers' machinery from its property tax but has no exemption on inventories.

Compulsory Auto Insurance Backed

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17 (P)—Maurice J. Soypher, a former member of the House of Delegates has been appointed to head a committee to seek public support for legislation requiring compulsory automobile insurance in Maryland.

The committee has been appointed by the Maryland Assn. of Plaintiff's Attorneys.

The M.A.P.A. advocated compulsory insurance as opposed to a system of providing protection for unsatisfied judgments. The latter system has been approved by the bar association of Baltimore City.

John J. O'Connor Jr., president of the M.A.P.A., said the purpose of the new committee is to gain public support for the enactment of remedial legislation.

He said it is recognized that the system fails to cover all contingencies but it is a forward step in the direction of affording more adequate protection to the public in automobile injury cases.

Editor Succumbs

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17 (P)—Frank T. Wallace, president and editor of the Daily Record Co., died here early today after an illness of five months.

He had been associated with the company, which publishes a legal and commercial newspaper, since the age of 15.

"Party" Figure Pleads Innocent

TOWSON, Md., Dec. 17 (P)—A theatrical producer, Don Swann Jr., pleaded innocent in Baltimore County Juvenile Court today to a petition charging him with creating a condition bringing a juvenile within the court's jurisdiction.

The case grew out of a police raid on a high school fraternity party located in a building on the Hilltop Theater property. Swann did not appear when 27 juveniles were in court Friday.

Last Friday, Judge John B. Gontum gave Swann until 10 a. m. today to return to the jurisdiction of the court or a bench warrant was to be issued for his extradition.

Swann's attorney told the court that his client was employed in Florida and had no intention of "playing hide and seek" with the court.

The attorney, Malcolm B. Tebbe, also told Judge Gontum that Swann "possibly executed bad judgement" in permitting juveniles to gather in a house said to be under the theatrical producer's control.

Judge Gontum released Swann in the custody of his attorney until the case is heard in February.

Italian Author Dies

ROME, Dec. 17 (P)—Guido Milanese, 81, Italian admiral who achieved renown as a writer of sea stories, died Saturday.

Gorillas are said not to be as ferocious as formerly thought. If they are cornered, however, they fight fiercely.

Zoning Board Pay Order Turned Down

The Mayor and Council by a 3-2 vote yesterday turned down an order which would have paid a former member of the Zoning Appeals Board who had not been reappointed but who took part in a later meeting because he had not been officially notified.

The order, introduced by Mayor Roy W. Eves last week, would have paid the former board chairman, Charles Paul Roeder, for services in March. Last week the order was passed 4-1 with Commissioner William H. Buchholz against, and then council voted 4-1 to reconsider the order with Mayor Eves dissenting.

On the motion by Commissioner William J. Edwards yesterday to confirm the original order to pay Roeder, a second was late in coming until parliamentary procedure was explained to council by City Attorney Thomas B. F. nan. Then to bring the matter to a vote, Buchholz seconded. He, Commissioner William V. Keegan and John J. Long voted against the payment. Eves and Edwards voted for the $25 payment.

Mayor Eves said Roeder's term expired January 15 and he was paid for January and February. City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson noted that H. Clifford Spiker was appointed March 1 and "Roeder had plenty of time to know about it."

Eves continued that Roeder was notified he had not been reappointed on March 19 and Spiker was notified on the same date that his appointment was effective March 1.

The Mayor added he would not have placed his name on the order if he did not believe the city morally obligated to pay Roeder. Without going into the legal aspects of the case, he said, he was sorry about the controversy caused by the matter.

The session yesterday was brief and had only a few of the usually numerous routine transactions.

Parking meter inspector Harry Whisner said receipts the week of December 9 were $737 compared to $714.75 the week of December 2, an increase of $22.25.

Two refunds for overpayment of taxes were approved.

C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, reported to council that Lake Gordon is seven inches above the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon four inches above. Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 86,010,000 gallons compared to 79,540,000 the same period a year ago.

On another matter, Long told council that since the movie charity tax fund is at a low ebb and as what funds will be available are committed to the Red Cross and Community Chest, it is "with regret" he sees no way the city could help in the United Jewish Appeal. A letter to that effect will be sent the organization.

John Humbird Yule Program Set Today

The First and Second Grades at John Humbird School will present a Christmas program today at 2 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The program will include a pantomime, "Mary Had a Baby," by students in Mrs. Ruth Wolford's room and a selection, "Jolly Old St. Nicholas" by a rhythm band.

Pupils of Mrs. Margaret Snyder's room will present a story, "Stop and Go," and a rhythm band from that room will play three selections.

"The Story of the Nativity" will be given by pupils from Miss Gladys Judy's room.

School Holding Yule Programs

Christmas programs by pupils in Columbia Street School will be held this week with the initial event yesterday.

Grades 1, 2 and 3 had Christmas carol sings with Miss Grace Swanson, music teacher, accompanist. Specialties were presented by each grade.

A similar program will be held tomorrow by Grades 4, 5 and 6. The Christmas dinner will be served Thursday at noon. The cafeteria has been decorated by pupils of the Sixth Grade. In the afternoon a movie, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," will be shown.

Friday morning the children will visit all rooms to inspect the art work which has been placed on display.

Christmas assembly programs have been scheduled as follows: Today at 9:30 a. m. the pupils in the rooms of Miss Rosemary Lancaster and Miss Nancy Murphy, at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Rose Ambrose and Samuel Lisanti's rooms, and 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Jean Stagers and Mrs. Margaret Hamilton's rooms.

Tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Margery Chambers room. Thursday at 9:30 a. m. Miss Carolyn Bowie and Mrs. Anna Jeffries' rooms.

Friday at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Josephine Frase's room and at 1:45 p. m. Miss Agatha Witte and William Pugh's rooms.

Parents and friends may attend any of the assembly programs.

Methodists Plan Yule Activities All This Week

Churches of the Union Grove Methodist charge began their Christmas activities last night according to Rev. Louis Emerick, minister.

Last evening a combined rehearsal was held in Zion Methodist Church for the program scheduled next Tuesday.

Today at 7 p. m. the Centenary board of education will meet, and at 7:30 p. m. the Elliott MYF will hold a Christmas party.

Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Zion Church the annual Christmas entertainment will be presented, and the Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at Pleasant Grove Church.

Thursday another rehearsal will be held for the Christmas program at the Pleasant Grove Church.

Friday at 7:30 p. m. the Centenary Church will present a Christmas program and a candle-light service.

The Pleasant Grove MYF will hold a Christmas party on Saturday at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

$1,000 Damage Suit, Settlement Filed

A $1,000 damage suit and its settlement for $300 have been for the Cub Scout Pack sponsored filed together in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The annual Christmas party will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Elizabeth Everett, his parents Wallace Wilson, Cubmaster, and next friends, of 357 Nevison Avenue, Luke, filed the suit near Deep Creek Lake. ## Trucker Escapes Death In Crash

A Frostburg trucker escaped death recently when his rig crashed on U. S. Route 219 near Meyersdale.

Fred Kearns, the driver, was traveling south on the highway when an auto traveling in the opposite direction crowded him off the road. Kearns swerved his rig and jackknifed.

Police said the trailer crashed on the road while the tractor came to rest in a nearby field. Kearns escaped without injury, and the rig was only slightly damaged, police said.

Yule Program Set

The Sunday School Christmas program for First Methodist Church, Bedford Street, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The program entitled "O Holy Night" will be presented by the entire church school and will feature a filmstrip, in color, throughout the program.

The program will include a solo by Kenneth Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, and a student at East Side School, and music also by the Junior Choir.

Mr., Mrs. Treat To Hold Anniversary Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Treat will entertain with a combined 25th anniversary celebration and house warming party tonight at their home, 704 Piedmont Avenue.

An open house will be held from 7 until 10 o'clock. The former Miss Helen Rizer, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Francis Rizer, Bedford Street, became the bride of Ernest E. Treat, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Treat, Knoxville, Pa., December 18, 1931. The ceremony was solemnized in a Methodist church in New Haven, Conn., with Rev. Brush officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Treat are the parents of one child, Miss Sondra Treat, a student nurse at Memorial Hospital.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Treat was a demonstrator with General Foods. Both she and Mr. Treat are members of Centre Street Methodist Church. She also is Hospitality chairman of the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland.

Mr. Treat was a salesman for General Foods for 18 years, and for the past nine years has been in the tax office of the Court House. He served four years as assistant tax collector; four as tax collector and for the past year has been assistant tax collector.

For the past three years he has been president of the Heart Association; is a director of Central YMCA, third vice president of the Lions Club, a warrant officer in the Army Reserve, immediate past president of the El-Fidel Club, a Mason, Shriner, a member of the Entertainment committee of Ali Ghan Country Club, a member of the Moose, American Legion and Young Republican Club.

A silver and crystal color scheme is being carried out in the decorations, with the refreshment table centered with a white and silver cake topped with a silver loving cup, filled with flowers and inscribed with "25" with crystal holders and silver candles on either end. Assorted flowers are being used throughout the house, and the mantel is decorated with a snowman, white reindeer, Christmas balls and ribbons of angel hair.

Miss Treat will take care of the guest book tonight, while the hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Clarence Frost, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Ray Athey and Mrs. William Lewis.

Union Grove Club Holds Yule Party

Union Grove Homemakers Club had a Christmas program, jingle party and installation of two officers at the annual Christmas dinner recently at Bedford Road fire hall. Mrs. Margaret Harding was installed as vice president and Mrs. Hazel Bolling, secretary, by Mrs. Louise Franklin.

The sunshine report was given by Mrs. Ruthella Fey; and treasurer's report by Mrs. Helen White. Mrs. Lloyd Keller reported on canning by the club, which included 2,400 quarts and 800 pounds of meat and vegetables, cured or frozen. Cards were read from Mrs. Edgar Vandegrift, in Florida, and Mrs. Rose Ambrose.

An invocation was given by Mrs. Rose Yeargan. Group singing included "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Joy To The World," and "Deck the Halls." Diana Watson danced to "Winter Wonderland." The Fort Hill Boys Sextet and Quartet, under the direction of Harold Hanson, sang a group of numbers including "O Come All Ye Faithful," "We Three Kings," "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," "Behold that Star," "Winter Wonderland," "Jingle Bells" and "O Holy Night." Ronald Growden and John Combs were soloists. Mr. Hanson sang, "The Holy City."

The turkey dinner was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Firemen. Red ribbons extended the length of the table, which was decorated with pine, gilded pine cones and snow men. Handmade snow men were the favors. Covers were laid for 31.

Pennies for Friendship were collected and jingle gifts exchanged. Guests were Mrs. Russell Smith, county president; Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, Mrs. Edith Nield, Miss Verna Lee Bolling and Miss Nine Seitz.

Committees of arrangements included Decorations, Mrs. White chairman, Mrs. Verna Hicks, Mrs. Selma Gillum, Mrs. Pearl Dicken and Mrs. Mary Wentling; Supper, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Elva Brotemarkle, Mrs. Hazel Bolling and Mrs. Catherine Purnell.

Cumberland BPW will have a dinner meeting at 6:15 tonight at Central Y.M.C.A.

Club Will Give Cards To Hospital

The Cumberland International Club decided to give old Christmas cards to the hospitalized children at its Christmas party held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Orville Swartley, Decatur Street. All members are asked to bring the cards to the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Miller, 400 Bond Street, January 13.

All members not citizens were reminded to register at the Post Office during January. Two new members were welcomed. They are Mrs. Frances Kidwell, from Norfolk, England; and Mrs. Russell Brown Bristol, England.

Jingle presents were exchanged and the gift given by Mrs. John Cunningham was won by Mrs. Albert Miller.

Others present were Mrs. Frederick Knoblock, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Guy Thompson, Mrs. John Nesbitt, Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. Luther Hutter, Mrs. Charles Crawford, Mrs. Joseph DiNicola, Mrs. William Street, Mrs. Lee Miller, Mrs. Melvin Munson and Mrs. Patricia Wilt.

Society Makes Two Donations

The WSCS of Zion Church sent $2 to the Swartzell home for children and gave $852 to the church building fund at the meeting recently.

A covered dish supper and Christmas program followed the meeting. Mrs. Louise Sanson presided. The program consisted of a talk on "Christ the Great Missionary," group singing, solos, a poem, prayer and a Scripture reading. Secret sisters were revealed and jingles were exchanged.

Mrs. Thora Tewell, Mrs. Mae Cameron and Mrs. Florence Thompson will be hostesses for the meeting January 4.

The Tepper-Somerville Circle of First Presbyterian Church will hold its final meeting of the year tomorrow in the form of a desert luncheon at 1. It will be in the senior room with Mrs. William Somerville, Mrs. George Buchanan and Mrs. L. M. Meyers as hostesses.

The Spangler-Haentling Circle of First Presbyterian Church will meet at 8 tonight at the home of Mrs. Vernon Chapman, LaVale Court.

Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1 will hold a Christmas party at 8 tonight at the lodge hall. Jingles will be exchanged.

A Tribute To the Spirit of Christmas!

We have heard so much of the commercialism of Christmas . . . and we deplore it. Yet when we look around our community and see the various groups joining hands to complete the Associated Charities "Toys for Tots" project . . . The Marine Corps Reserve Units, schools, clubs, churches, sororities, scouts and interested individuals who have spent so many hours in sewing, repairing and painting toys which were turned over to the Associated Charities for distribution to the needy without regard for race, color or place of residence. The Salvation Army's famed Christmas baskets . . . numerous lodges, unions and clubs working to see that no one goes hungry . . . that no child is without gifts! There is a real Spirit of Christmas at work in this area!

Service Alley Approved By Corps Of Engineers

The Corps of Engineers has informed the city that a change order has been issued in contract plans to provide for a service alley along Wills Creek between Bedford and Baltimore streets.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday the Mayor and Council had requested the change last July. Additional cost involved in the proceedings will be in the neighborhood of $1,600, he said.

Under terms of the agreement, the city must provide rights-of-way or easements beyond flood control means along the left bank of the creek; gravel surface for the alley; guard-rail fencing along riverward side; one-day closing of the alley each year to protect the local permanent easement for flood protection works; and be responsible for necessary maintenance and operation including part of the flood project adjacent.

The Engineers in the same report also informed council that relocation of an existing 18-inch sewer along the right bank of the creek is required to provide for a future bridge pier to be constructed by the State of Maryland.

This has been included in the present channel improvement contract for flood control to effect a substantial saving to the city on future contract work for the Cumberland Thruway.

Cost to the city of relocating the sewer will be approximately $1,550, according to Col. George B. Sumner of the Engineers.

Storm Sewer Cost Disputed

Three property owners on Frederick Street are disputing charges for a storm sewer levied against them by the city as part of the Frederick Street Improvement Project.

Similar letters were sent to the Mayor and Council by Arthur H. Bopp, Casper S. and Mary J. Brown, and Raymond L. and Marie K. Zimmerla.

The storm sewer cost and assessment was a major point of protest made by residents of the area when hearings were held on overall expenditures involved.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out the city code provides that such a protest can be made within five years after liens are filed and proceedings brought to have the assessment declared invalid. Within 60 days, the city can file for extension of the lien and a hearing held.

He said the question is can the cost of street sewerage be included in the general paving program? The city's position was, and is, that the storm sewer is part of the drainage setup to make the paving program effective, he added.

The matter was referred to Finan for disposition.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long asked Finan if any other streets had been charged for sewerage.

Finan said there had been others having rather extensive drainage systems charged to them.

Long repeated, "Then there have been others?" Finan replied "That is correct," and then added when the city puts street work in, it has to arrange to drain it.

Finan pointed out in a general statement that if the decision goes against the city in the matter of storm sewer charges, it will put a crimp in plans for improving cross streets between Bedford and Frederick Streets which some residents have requested; and will affect plans for the George Street cutoff project which would also benefit residents of the Frederick-Bedford Streets area.

W. Va. Demos Name Flannery House Speaker

Bean Unopposed As Senate President

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 17 (AP)—House Democrats chose Del. W. E. Flannery of Man for a fifth straight term as speaker by a 32-26 vote today over Del. J. Horner Davis II of Charleston, first man since 1949 to oppose Flannery for the post.

Democrats of the Legislature's other chamber at the same time re-elected Sen. Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, who was unopposed, a third straight term as Senate president.

Technically Flannery and Bean still are only nominees for the pending officers' posts. But with the Democrats in firm control by margins of 58-42 in the House and 11-11 in the Senate, their election when the 53rd Legislature convenes here Jan. 9 is a foregone conclusion.

The defeated nominees of the Republican minorities, chosen Saturday, will become the GOP floor leaders of their respective chambers. They are Sen. John Carrigan (R-Marshall) and Del. George H. Seibert Jr. (R-Ohio).

Democrats picked their leaders separate caucuses of the party's legislators and delegates in the legislative chambers at the capitol. The sessions were closed to press and public and voting was by secret ballot.

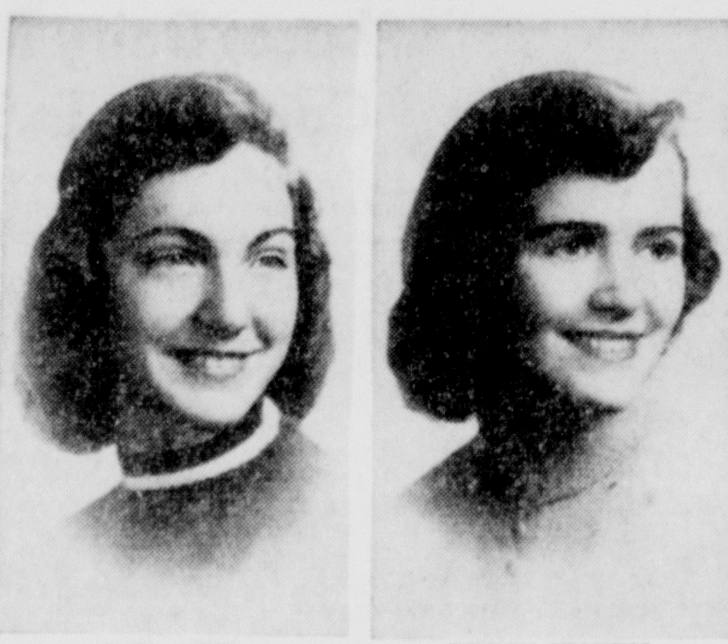

In advance of the House caucus, both sides in the Flannery-Davis contest expressed confidence of victory, and the outcome somewhat stunned the Davis supporters. Obviously, they had counted some votes which wound up in the Flannery column.

Flannery defeated former Del. William H. Fife Jr. of Beckley in the 1949 Democratic caucus to win his first term as speaker. Flannery was unopposed for his second, third and fourth terms. The 46-year-old Logan countian is the only man ever elected to more than three terms as House speaker.

The clerks of the two chambers, Howard Myers of Martinsburg in the Senate and C. A. Blankenship of Pineville in the House, are chosen for another term without opposition.

Today's Democratic caucuses and those held by Republicans Saturday departed from past practice of holding such meetings the night before the convening of the legislative session.

The change is designed to speed organization of the Legislature and enable presiding officers to give their committee appointments drawn up when the session begins.

Somerset Bus Drivers Strike

SOMERSET — The 12 drivers of the Somerset (Pa.) Bus Company struck Sunday at midnight in an attempt to enforce their demands for a "substantial" wage increase.

One bus of the firm operates daily, except Sunday, from Somerset to Cumberland. The bus company also operates to and from Johnstown and Pittsburgh. W. F. Lester, an official of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen which represents the drivers, said the strike was called following a breakdown in negotiations that began Nov. 1.

Lester said the drivers' wages averaged one dollar an hour. He said the union sought a "substantial" wage hike but did not say what amount would be considered substantial.

Bus company officials declined to comment.

His Tenth...and His Greatest Thrill!

Nine times before he has stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to a new Cadillac car. And yet, as often as he has re-enacted this glorious event, he knows that there is something very special about today.

For this is more than a new Cadillac. This is the newest and most advanced Cadillac car ever to find its way from drawing board to production line.

And imagine, for just a moment, the many wonderful thrills that await him as he takes the keys and starts off on his first journey home.

To begin with, there will be his discovery of Cadillac's brilliant new performance. The car is so smooth and responsive that it will be a revelation.

Then, as he takes the sweep of the boulevard, there will be the added thrill of those admiring glances that will come from his fellow motorists.

And how satisfying it will be to find that Cadillac owners themselves have a special affection for the man who rides in the new "car of cars".

And finally, of course, there will be the joy of that wonderful "welcome home" as he turns into the familiar driveway and comes to a silken stop.

For a new 1957 Cadillac is the prize of any family... and the pride of any neighborhood!

Why not come in soon for a preview of this thrilling experience? We have a 1957 Cadillac waiting in our showroom—and we will be happy to give you a personal demonstration at any time.

Whether it's to be your first or your second—or your fifth or your tenth Cadillac—you're in for a wonderful surprise!

Army Seeking Men In Guided Missile Units

The Regular Army's newest addition to its ranks, the Guided Missile Units of the Army Anti-Aircraft Command, is now open for direct enlistments, M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley, local recruiter, has been advised.

Men with or without prior service may apply. Sgt. Hartley said the Army is offering college credits for many of the technical courses that men in this new branch will take. Enlistees have a choice of several courses in electronics and guided missile repair and maintenance, he noted.

Sgt. Hartley also announced several enlistments. Tommy L. Riggelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Riggelman, 703 Princeton Street; Wilbert F. Gordon, son of Hayes R. Gordon, Home-wood Addition; and Samuel L. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McDonald of Corriganville, enlisted in the Regular Army for three years each.

Gordon and McDonald selected

Mt. Pleasant To Hear Choir

Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church will be host to First Methodist choir when the latter presents a Christmas cantata Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Mt. Pleasant Church.

The cantata is entitled "Christmas Song of Songs" and will be sung by the senior and treble choirs composed of 30 voices.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Margery Hinkle Chambers with Mrs. Cora Parleton as organist. A film will be shown with the cantata.

Mt. Pleasant will hold its annual Christmas party for the Sunday school Saturday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. The Christmas program at the church will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. following the worship service.

The Transportation Corps, while Riggelman volunteered for the Signal Corps.

The new recruits will take their basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., before going to the branches in which they are enrolled.

St. Matthew's Plans Cantata

A Christmas cantata entitled "The Child Jesus" will be presented Sunday at 11 a. m. by the junior and senior choirs of St. Matthew's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. John B. Zinn, pastor, announced yesterday.

The cantata will be preceded by a processional hymn, confessional service and the reading of the Holy Scriptures by the pastor. Several selections by the junior and senior choirs will be featured along with solo numbers by members of the choirs. The men's and women's choruses also will take part in the cantata.

Among the soloists on the program are Mrs. John Zinn, Mrs. Calvin Ayers, Dorothy Rutherford, Willa Cameron, Richard Ayers and Davison Ayers. The cantata is being directed by George C. Stein, organist and choir-master.

Later the same day at 7:30 p. m. the church school will hold its annual Christmas festival with all departments participating.

Poultry Meeting

Wade H. Rice, poultry specialist from the University of Maryland, will meet with a group of Allegany County farmers at the Court House at 8 p. m. Thursday to make plans for the annual winter meeting of poultrymen.

The meeting probably will be held in February at LaVale Fire Hall. County Agent Joseph M. Steger has invited Richard Stegmaier, R. W. Ferguson, William P. Engle, Charles S. Harvey and Wilbur Crabtree to the planning meeting.

Parking Bond

the plan for acquiring the Holzshu property opposite City Hall.

Mr. Finan stressed that the city must consider taking over any parking program it sponsors and this brought from the bond expert a suggestion that an engineering study might be desirable before any action is taken.

The committees pointed out good use may be made of the 1950 traffic study and Commissioner William V. Keegan said the city has already reached 1970 traffic estimates.

One possibility, the bond expert said, is the lease-back plan being used by some Pennsylvania cities.

This would call the creation of a parking authority, which could enter into an agreement with the city, issue bonds supported by the credit of the city, and then lease the facility back to the city.

A person who buys the bonds, he said, has recourse to the city if the parking facility does not pay out.

Representatives of the Minute Parking firm, Mayor Roy W. Eves said, are to be here Wednesday at 11 a. m. to report on financing plans for their proposal.

Ike Again Becomes A President-Elect

Dwight D. Eisenhower for the second time is now officially a President-elect. He became one when the 531 electors met in their respective state capitals and voted for President and Vice President according to the votes of the 48 states on November 6. (There are 48 electoral colleges, technically no single "electoral college" for the whole nation).

The Constitution, by virtue of the 20th Amendment, is now perfectly clear as to who would become president on January 20 if Mr. Eisenhower between yesterday and then should become unable to assume the office. It would be the Vice President-elect, which is what Richard M. Nixon became yesterday.

The voters didn't really make Mr. Eisenhower President-elect on November 6, for they elected, not him, but electors to elect him. What the Constitution isn't clear about is what happens if the man for whom the electors were chosen in November should die before that day in December when they elect him.

In theory—that is, under the strict letter of the Constitution—the electors could then vote for anybody they chose. In actuality—under the spirit of the Constitution—they would almost certain elect as President the Vice Presidential candidate on the winning ticket. It would be argued cogently that the voters in November had picked him as Presidential successor in the following four years if there had to be a Presidential successor in that time.

If the electors made President-elect the Vice-Presidential candidate on the winning ticket, they would then probably be guided by their party's national committee on whom to make Vice-President elect. At least in 1912 when the losing Vice Presidential candidate died before the electors met, the eight Republican ones cast their votes for Vice President as instructed by the Republican National Committee (for President Nicholas M. Butler of Columbia University instead of for James S. Sherman, deceased).

Fifth Amendment Hearings

Queer things happen before Congressional committees when they hold hearings in what are known as Communist Cases and witnesses take refuge in the Fifth Amendment whether it fits or not. I am referring to one Abraham Bick who appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

It would seem that an article was published in a monthly magazine written by one who gave as his by-line the name and title of Rabbi Abraham Bick and no matter where one looks only one such person is identifiable. The Committee quotes the article which is dated Prague, November 13 (1950) and deals with the Second World Congress for Peace which was a Communist propaganda enterprise. So the document is shown to Bick who responds:

"I plead the Fifth Amendment and will not answer anything which can lead to self-incrimination, testifying against myself."

Then the colloquy becomes silly:

"Mr. Kearney. That is without even looking at the document?"

"Mr. Bick. I have seen it."

"Mr. Arens. When did you see it, Mr. Bick?"

"Mr. Bick. Just now when you gave it to me."

"Mr. Arens. Have you ever seen it before?"

"Mr. Bick. I respectfully decline to answer on the grounds of the Fifth Amendment."

"Mr. Arens. Are you the Abraham Bick who wrote this article?"

"Mr. Bick. The same answer, sir."

"Mr. Arens. Were you in Prague on November 13, 1950?"

"Mr. Bick. The same answer under the Fifth Amendment."

"Mr. Arens. I put it to you as a fact, that you were the person who wrote this article and that you were the person who was in Prague on November 13, 1950, to attend the Second World Congress for Peace."

"Mr. Bick. I stick to my right not to self-incriminate myself and I invoke the Fifth Amendment, sir."

The colloquy is silly because Bick's passport indicates where he was at a given time and he has written a large number of articles and delivered speeches all of which make him identifiable and there are photographs of him. In a word, his refusal to identify himself and his career has nothing to do with the Fifth Amendment but is more in the nature of telling the Committee to go to the Devil, and it would be easier, it seems to me, to say it that way.

In 1956, it must have been very embarrassing to Bick because he said in 1950 that there was no anti-Semitism in the countries behind the Iron Curtain, but Khrushchev, in his 20th Congress speech, referred to Stalin's practice of anti-Semitism at that very time. Either Bick or Khrushchev told the truth, but not both of them. Also, it is to be noted that the committees of American rabbis who visited Soviet Russia during the smiling days of the Geneva Spirit found much to discourage them from believing Bick's whitewash of Stalin's regime.

The trouble here, I am sure, must rest with lawyers who have discovered in the Fifth Amendment a sanctuary which they employ until it becomes an absurdity as it does in this case where the man is identified by a passport and newspaper photograph.

I read about 25 printed pages of this stuff and wondered why the Fifth Amendment can be used to waste time when it stands to reason that if a man signed an article which is printed in a journal he can go meandering about declining to answer as to his name, his whereabouts, his identity on the basis that if he answers anything it might incriminate him.

Again, we have this absurd sort of answering:

"Mr. Kearney. What is the Jefferson School?"

"Mr. Bick. The Fifth Amendment?"

"Mr. Kearney. What is the Jefferson School?"

"Mr. Bick. It is a school, probably."

"Mr. Kearney. What kind of a school?"

"Mr. Bick. Doesn't it say on the letterhead there?"

"Mr. Kearney. I don't know. You tell me."

"The Chairman. You said it is a school. If you know it is a school, what kind of school is it?"

"Mr. Bick. Look at the letterhead and see."

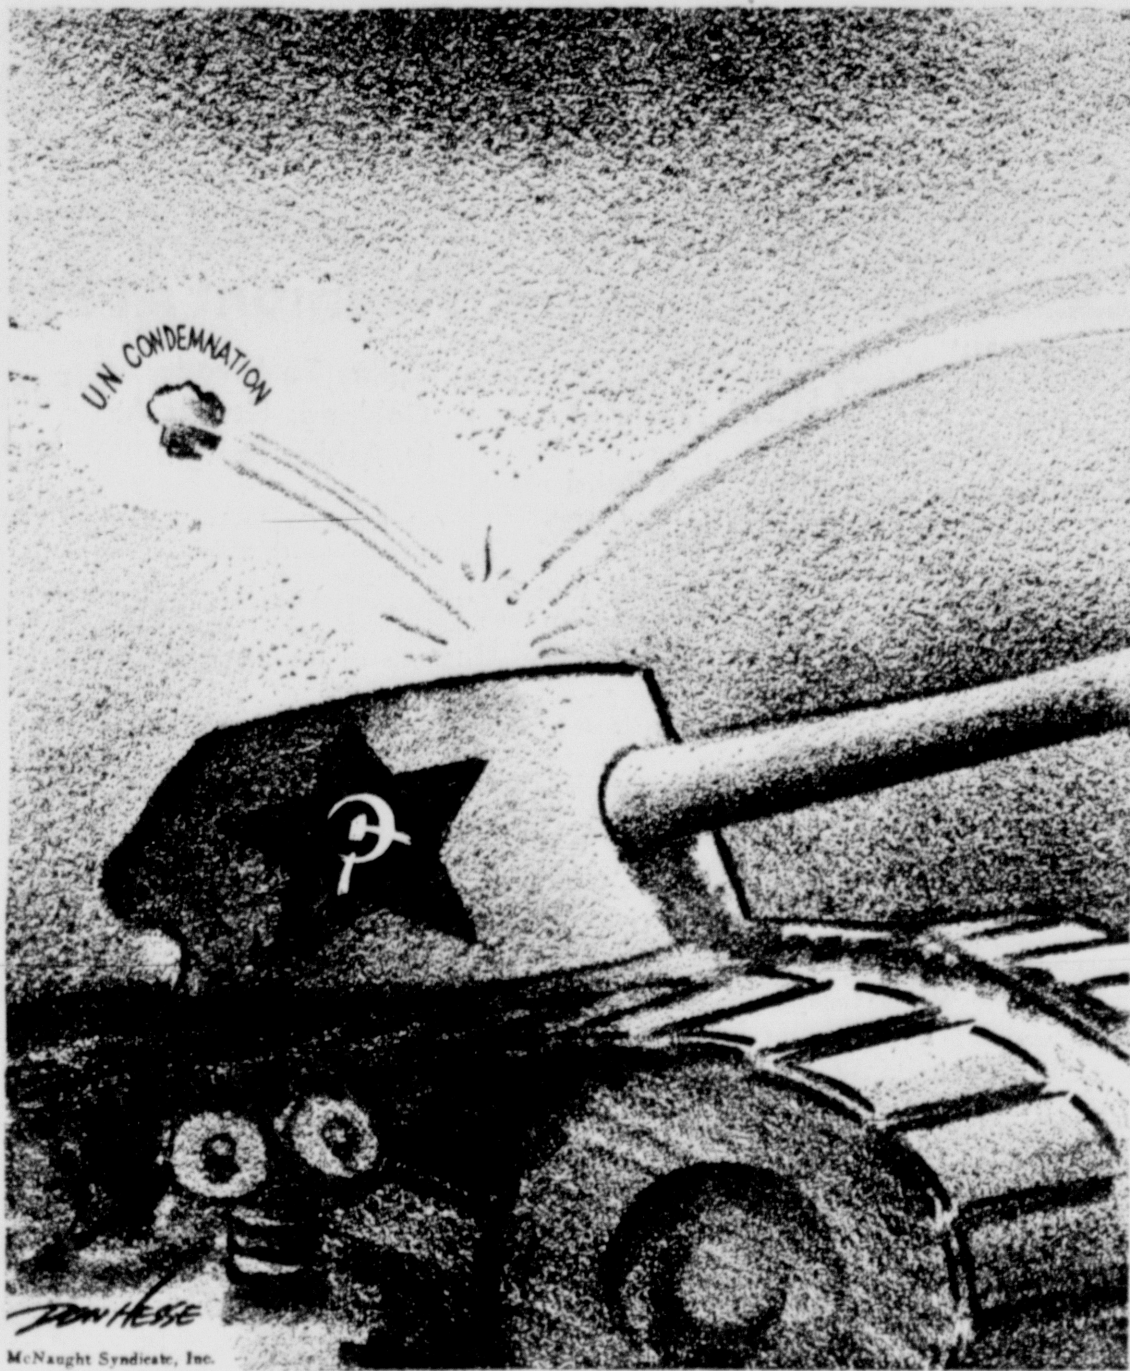

"Mr. Kearney. Do you know who runs the school?"

"Mr. Bick. I don't know."

The Jefferson School was run by the Communist Party and Bick gave a course there.

Another Case Of Rocks Against Tanks?

Soviet 'Two-Mindedness' Affects World Future

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

There is no longer any doubt about it, in the minds of those best able to judge. There has been at least a partial breakdown of the iron authority of the Soviet regime, not only in the foreign Communist parties and in the satellites, but within the center of power, the Soviet Union itself.

Some evidence to this effect has already been cited in this space. But, since the Hungarian revolt, there has been more and more. Here is the sort of thing that has puzzled, fascinated, and impressed the Soviet experts.

Mme. Furtseva, a candidate member of the all-powerful Praesidium, and the most important woman in the Soviet Union, recently addressed a meeting of workers at the Kaganovitch ball-bearing plant. It was at this plant that a strike — something hitherto unheard of in the Soviet Union — occurred in the first period of the Hungarian revolt.

"Mme. Furtseva addressed the assembled workers on the need for discipline and production. A voice in the back of the hall shouted "and how much money do you make?" Thereafter she was hissed, booed, and laughed at and she left the platform pale and shaken.

A Russian-speaking British citizen, traveling in Southern Russia, went to the opera and took the last seat in a box. The other occupants of the box began chatting with him, and after the opera all concerned went to the house of one of them (this in itself is extraordinary — a foreigner is almost never asked to the house of a Soviet citizen). There followed a kind of private, spontaneous protest meeting, in which all those present poured forth their bitterness against the regime — this to an unknown foreigner.

The most extraordinary incident of all has been reported in the London Sunday Times by Alexandre Metaxas, a reliable Russian-speaking journalist, who has just returned from several months in the Soviet Union. According to Metaxas, Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev recently tried to address a youth meeting. Instead of booing him, the assembled youth applauded him so long and loud that he was not able to speak at all. Khrushchev was perfectly aware of the derisive intent, but he could do nothing about it.

Metaxas, in his remarkable series of articles, has reported that Hungary spelled the death knell, not only of Khrushchev and Bulganin, but of the Soviet system itself, as it has operated in the last decade and a half. The system, he wrote, is visibly disintegrating.

There is no recognized authority on the Soviet Union, in Washington at least, who is prepared to go nearly so far as Metaxas — except possibly Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who strongly implied in his speech to the NATO meeting that the Soviet system was "cracking up." But the experts do agree that there has been a serious weakening of discipline, and that the Russian rulers are scared, and in doubt what to do.

Most experts further agree that it would be very difficult — perhaps impossible — for the Soviet

Coughing Most Common Among Cigaret Users

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Much has been said and written about the adverse effects on the lungs of dust, fumes, and smoke. But in all the talk about preventing air pollution, one observation usually is overlooked: Persons who do not smoke cigarettes rarely cough, regardless of where they live or the type of work they do.

A group of West Virginia and Rhode Island physicians made a survey along this line among two separate groups of men with chronic cough. The first consisted of 974 employees of a large steel making plant in West Virginia. The air of this highly industrialized community was filled with dust and smoke, day and night.

Some of the workers handled coal and coke; others tore down and rebuilt open hearth furnaces and ladles for pouring steel. The rest were involved in cleaning and electroplating sheet steel with tin. A history of daily chronic cough was obtained in 297, or 31 per cent.

In the second group were 300 patients in a hospital on the Atlantic coast. They came from widely scattered areas of lower New England, including rural and urban communities. Most of them lived in sections where the air was considered clean. The majority were in the wage-earner class and worked in and out of doors as jewelers, laborers, painters, farmers, carpenters, fishermen, and salesmen. Chronic cough was present in 44 per cent.

The smoking habits of both groups were investigated and it was found that 64 per cent in group 1 and 70 per cent in group 11 were cigarette smokers. Further analysis showed a direct relationship between chronic cough and the number of cigarettes smoked daily.

Only 2 per cent of the non-smokers and 51 per cent of the cigarette smokers had chronic cough. Cough in pipe and cigar users occurred in the same proportion as in non-smokers. Infections were not a factor.

It is reasonable to assume that the incidence of chronic cough in these men is no different from that in the general adult population. If true, 34 per cent are bothered along this line. Statistics obtained elsewhere give 42 per cent in one study and 57 per cent in another.

The authors did not intend to minimize the effects of smog on over-all health. They regard smoking as self-induced extreme form of air pollution, but were cautious in their conclusions. They decided: "While cigarette smoking certainly is not the only cause of chronic cough, it is a common one."

Near Eastern Oil Reserves Pivotal Point In U.S. And Russian Policy

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note — This is the second of a series of columns in which Drew Pearson discusses oil, the Near East, and its influence on American policy.)

WASHINGTON — There can be no argument about the importance of Near Eastern oil to the United States.

The present proven reserves of the Near East have a life of 100 years. In contrast the proven reserves of the United States have a life of 12 to 13 years.

Of the free world's crude oil reserves, 71 per cent is located in the Near East. In barrels that's 126 billion out of a total reserve of 178 billion. Most of this is future oil. The United States, with only 17 per cent of the free world's oil reserve, consumes 60 per cent.

What the Soviet bloc wants, of course, is the future oil of the Near East. This is the chief, if not the sole reason for pouring arms into Egypt — so many arms that the supply discovered by the Israeli Army in the Sinai Desert probably amounted to a future base for either the Red Army or Russian "volunteers."

Oil vs. Allies

Without minimizing the importance of Near East oil, the question is whether oil companies, oil officials, and State Department officials interested in oil should dominate and direct American foreign policy. Also, should we put oil ahead of our traditional allies, France and Britain.

Yesterday this column described the off affiliations of Herbert Hoover Jr., the charming, sometimes naive "Undersecretary of State whose firm has worked for most of the big oil companies. He has made many of the recent decisions which carried American policy to a new low in western Europe.

The man who will replace Hoover, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, also has oil connections. His wife, Mary Caroline Pratt, belongs to the Pratt oil family and inherited millions. The Pratts are affiliated with Standard Oil of New Jersey which owns 30 per cent of the Arabian-American Oil Company (ARAMCO).

John Foster Dulles's law firm, it should be noted, represents Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Loy Henderson, deputy under-secretary for the Near East, once received an air cooler as a gift from the Washington lobbyist of ARAMCO.

Let's take a further look at how American big oil influenced or dominated American policy in recent weeks.

First, part of the Russian arms sold and bartered to Egypt was paid for, indirectly, by American oil. Nasser swapped cotton for part of his Soviet arms, but part was paid for in cash. And to get the cash he put the bite on his fellow Arab, King Saud in Saudi Arabia, who in turn put the bite on Arabian-American oil. They advanced oil royalties to the amount of around $200 million.

Helping Russia

Thus Standard of N. J., Socony Mobil, Standard of Calif., and the Texas Co., all bitter haters of Communism, were indirectly helping to import Communist arms into Egypt. They were afraid not to ante up when King Saud demanded cash.

Later, after the Suez storm broke, Syria, a virtual Soviet satellite, put the bite on ARAMCO for oil. Again this was done through King Saud who relayed the "request" to ARAMCO. Before making the "request" the Syrians carefully mined ARAMCO's pipeline passing through Syrian territory and threatened to blow it up unless they were allowed to tap the line for their own needs.

Nervously ARAMCO agreed. In other words, the Rockefeller family, which dominates ARAMCO, is now in the position of helping supply oil for the Russian tanks, trucks, and MIGs that were rushed to Syria and which have been threatening both Israel and Iraq.

Much more important was the pledge which the Arabs exacted from ARAMCO that no oil would be sold to the British and French. It was in return for this pledge that the Arabs refrained from blowing up ARAMCO's pipeline. It is still pumping oil and has continued to do so all during the Suez crisis on the condition that not one drop would fall into French and British hands.

The Arabs' Weapon

This is believed to be a potent, if not controlling reason, why both Hoover and Dulles leaned over backward against giving oil to the British and French. For oil cannot be compartmentalized. And it was feared that the Arabs would not differentiate between Standard Oil brought from Arabia and Standard Oil shipped from Venezuela or Texas.

Once Standard Oil of any kind reached England or France there was a good chance the Arabs might blow up ARAMCO pipelines and installations.

How much this had to do with the Hoover-Dulles determination to withhold oil from the French and British may never be known until either the Senate investigates or the documents are published 10 years hence.

But this much is known. Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd was scheduled to announce British troops' withdrawal from Suez on November 29. It had been agreed that the State Department next day would announce facilities by which France and England would receive oil. But when Lloyd did not make the full announcement on November 29, then Dulles and Hoover postponed the American announcement until December 4.

Whereupon Eisenhower overruled his undersecretary, who for years has been closely affiliated with the oil companies, and his Secretary of State whose firm represents Standard Oil. He told them in effect to quit acting like children and on November 30 he publicly ordered the machinery for oil to France and England to go into effect.

Note — A sensible proposal for expediting oil shipments to needy Europe has been offered by A. N. Spanel, chairman of International Latex Corp. In a wire to President Eisenhower, Spanel has urged formation of an international tanker pool to ship oil where it is needed most. The bottleneck in the President's emergency oil offer, Spanel wires, "is the presently uncoordinated tanker transport facilities." If the free nations pooled their tankers on an emergency basis, he suggests, it would be possible to make up Europe's million-barrel-per-day shortage.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

How many more shopping days until Christmas? If your wife is calm at that query it is a good sign. She has her Christmas shopping well in hand. If your spouse turns pale when you put the question to her and answers it accurately, that's bad. She has not nearly finished her shopping. How many people have you and your wife on your Christmas list? I know a fellow who has six children. Not only that, his wife has four married brothers and two married sisters and they have all been prolific producers of offspring. What a Christmas list they must have!

Those Programs

In my fondness for the Dickens classic titled "A Christmas Carol," I am second to none. However, I can do without it on this year's Christmas television programs. Let us have some other Christmas classics for a change.

How about "The Gifts of the Magi" by O. Henry. "Silent Night" is a beautiful hymn but after you have heard it on 50 or more television programs in a couple of days you have a longing to hear something else. There are quite a few Christmas hymns and carols that have seldom been sung over the air. Let the program directors give us a little originality there. Then there is the constant repetition of that ditty about the "Red Nosed Reindeer" and incessant renditions of "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." The television industry should offer a prize for the station putting on the "most original" Christmas program.

Among The Married

What is the ideal family? Many hold the view that it is a family of six. Father, mother, two sons and two daughters. How about the difference in ages of the children of this ideal family? Those who have done considerable research of family life and happy marriages say a couple should have two children in the three or four years of marriage. They should then wait for a period of four or five years before having two more. This, it is claimed will make the mother's task of rearing her offspring easier on her physically. It will also make it easier to handle the financial angle of four blessed events.

Passing By

John Bartis, singing actor, has scored a hit in that lively stage revue titled "Shoestrings '57." John is from Meriden, Conn. That's where Rosa Ponselle, the opera star, came from. Rosa was originally of the vaudeville team billed as "The Ponselle Sisters." Her sister Carmen was her partner. Rosa Ponselle is the only vaudeville singer to become a Metropolitan opera star. So I believe. Or do I lose the stogie?

Asides

Does your wife snore? If so you will undoubtedly be interested to know there has been originated what is described as "a liquid vegetable germicide" which is claimed to cure snoring. It has been said, "It is all right to think you're as young as you used to be but don't try to prove it." If more men would keep that in mind there would be many less cases of heart attack.

Just Horses

A French bred horse, Mr. Boing, won the International Handicap at Laurel, Md. That you know. However, did you know that French bred horses won 16 British classic stakes this year? These included the Derby, Oaks, St. Leger and Ascot Cup. To what is the superiority of French thoroughbreds due? It is interesting to note that French breeders place as much and at times more on the mare than the stallion in breeding. British breeders are inclined to place too much importance on the stallion and too little on the mare.

Frostburg Teachers Win Over Potomac State, 79-51

Dave Marple Chalks Up 22 For Bobcats

Season Total Soars To 133 In Team's 4th Straight Win

FROSTBURG, Dec. 17—Frostburg State Teachers College reeled off its fourth consecutive triumph tonight, defeating Potomac State College of Keyser in their series opener by the score of 79-51.

The game was a ragged affair and six minutes before the final whistle Coach Walden Skinner's Bobcats held a 30-point advantage at 59-29. Potomac trailed at halftime, 33-17.

Dave Marple, Frostburg's high scoring pivot man, dumped in 22 points to lead the attack. He collected eight field goals and meshed 6 of 10 foul shots to up his point total to 133 in seven games, an average of 19 per contest. Dave owns a foul shooting average of .717 for 43 conversions in 60 attempts. Carter was the runner-up with 12 tallies.

Twenty-four players saw action in tonight's contest, 12 on each side.

Dick Wickline of Alexandria, Va., was Potomac State's high point scorer with a total of 11.

The victory was Frostburg's fifth against two losses. The Bobcats' next engagement is with Mount Union College here Wednesday at 8:15. Mount Union finished in third place in the 22-team Ohio Conference last season.

Potomac State suffered its fifth successive defeat tonight and now owns a 2-5 record.

In the preliminary game, Frostburg State's junior varsity whipped Potomac State's Jayvees, 69-57. Lefty Bill Roberts sparked the winners with 17 points while Jim Thompson and Big Dan Williams garnered 13 each. Jerry Bodnarchuk headed the losers with 23 tallies. Lineups:

St. Joe's, Auburn Win In Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Dec. 17—St. Joseph's of Philadelphia lived up to its role of Carrousel Basketball Classic favorite by blasting Davidson 86-64 in a first round game tonight.

St. Joseph's qualified for a semi-finals meeting tomorrow night with Auburn, 89-64 winner over Clemson. In the final game Wake Forest met Colgate for the right to play Florida, 97-90 overtime winner over Muhlenberg.

Unbeaten St. Joseph's, in winning its sixth straight game, hit an amazing 18 of 22 shots from the floor in the first half and added 12 more in their first 13 attempts in the second half before they cooled off. They finished the game with 30 baskets on 58 shots.

By C. V. BURNS

MARYLAND'S deer herd can benefit through the legalized shooting of doe.

That's the opinion expressed by Bill Burton, outdoors columnist of the Baltimore Evening Sun. Burton says a tour of the woodlands during the deer season, followed by talks with conservationists and a study of kills, have convinced him of the necessity of the controversial doe season.

"Many sportsmen are of the opinion there aren't too many deer in the woodlands until there's enough to assure practically everyone a kill," Burton writes. "But that isn't true. There isn't enough browse available to support the present herd."

"The problem of deer starving for lack of suitable food during the winter months hasn't hit Maryland yet. But it can just as it has in Pennsylvania and West Virginia."

"The time to cope with white tail starvation is before it occurs. Deer are a valuable game food. They should be harvested by hunters, rather than die of starvation, which is dictated by nature to keep a balance. There is no question but what the state's herds are increasing much faster than the hunter is curbing it during a week-long season."

Ernest Vaughn, director of the Game and Inland Fish Commission, believes that in some sections the buck-doe balance is as far off as six to one in favor of the female deer.

Farmers on the Eastern Shore are suffering crop losses and orchardists in Western Maryland report serious damages. The next session of the legislature will be asked to declare a doe season only in counties where it deems it necessary after a study. Under no conditions would it be state-wide. The season would be for one day only and would not immediately follow the buck season, nor would buck hunters lose a day of their six-day season because of the special doe season.

THESE race track people really are funny.

Take for example the Timonium group. They're moaning over the appearance of the New York Yankees in Baltimore on Labor Day when there's not enough room at the track for half those wanting to attend.

Timonium always is jammed on Labor Day regardless of other nearby attractions on that day.

DON'T BE SURPRISED if the West Virginia School for the Deaf takes it all in the Potomac Valley Conference basketball race this season.

Paced by the 6-foot-5 Gene Smith, who has plenty of support from Charley Buemi and Johnny Popovich in the point-making department, Coach Malcolm Norwood's Lions have piled up 201 points in knocking off Ridgeley, Romney and Capon Bridge and only Ridgeley looms as a tough hurdle in their remaining seven league games.

BOB WHIP, who will be remembered as the business manager of the Cumberland Dukes in the days of the All-American Pro Basketball League, is on the ushering staff at the Baltimore Stadium and reports that he saw all but three of the Orioles' games and all of the Colts' home games this year.

"I am still waiting for a winner but will stick with them Birds and Hoses," Bob writes.

THE Professional Golfers Association has adopted a new code which provides cash fines ranging from $25 to $500 for rules infractions during tournaments.

Failure to compete after entering a tournament will cost a player $100, as will failure to complete a round in an event for which a player has qualified.

Other penalties include: For defacing the putting green deliberately or in anger—$25.

Use of abusive or profane language to officials, spectators, club members, the press or caddies—$100.

Upon repetition of the above offense within the year's tournament schedule—$500.

Breaking clubs deliberately or in anger—$100.

Upon repetition of the above—$500 for each infraction.

OMISSION of a single word sometimes can foul up a news item.

Such was the case the other day when it was stated here that "Miss Bessie Fann, 67, head pr. at the Palm Beach Gold Club is the only woman professional in the United States." There are quite a few women pros nowadays should have read that Miss Fann is the only woman home pro in the U.S.

DID YOU EVER hear of the ballplayer who stopped the clock at Ebbs Field?

It happened in the days when Uncle Wilbert Robinson was manager of the Dodgers.

"Moose" Clabaugh, up from the minors, te.d off during batting practice at ten minutes to two.

His drive hit the dial on the timepiece dead center on the right field wall. The hour hand started to drop. So did the minute hand on the other side. All of a sudden it was half past six.

Since that was the era of the Daffiness Boys, Doug McWeeny, a Brooklyn pitcher, poked his head out of the dugout, eyed the clock in right field and exclaimed:

"Now where did those four hours go?"

FUNNIEST STORY of the young basketball season concerns a high school coach, who became so exasperated with the poor showing of one of his players in action on the court that he turned to another member of the squad seated on the bench and said:

"I want you to go in for that knucklehead."

Then the coach almost collapsed when his player inquired: Which one, coach?

Mercuries, Fords Post Shutout Wins

Two shutouts marked action in the Hot Rod Mixed Bowling League this week, the Mercuries beating the Plymouths and the Fords winning over the DeSotos by 3-0 scores.

In another match the Chevrolet defeated the Dodges, 2-1.

Mercuries — John Lindeman 156, George P. Porter 128-369. Plymouths — Frances Myers 144, 367. Dodges — Don Layton 144, 360. Chevrolet — Herlie Cutlip 187-429. Fords — Frank Drake 164-556. DeSotos — Paul Rudolph 159-404.

The league's Christmas jingle party was held at the V.F.W. Home Saturday night. Prizes were awarded to Frances Myers and Frank Drake for individual high sets.

Captains, Corporals, Sergeants Post Wins

The Captains defeated the Lieutenants, the Sergeants scored over the Yard Birds and the Corporals downed the Buck Privates in the American Legion Mixed Bowling League by 2-1 scores last night on the Savoy Alleys.

These matches wound up the first half of the season with the Captains leading with 29 wins and 16 losses.

Lions' Prexy Asks Ban On Ed Meadows

Layne Deliberately Slugged, Is Charge

DETROIT, Dec. 17—Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions, tonight asked National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell to ban Ed Meadows of the Chicago Bears from pro football for life.

Anderson also asked that the Bears and their coaches be fined in connection with the injury to quarterback Bobby Layne of the Lions during yesterday's Western Division title game between the Bears and the Lions.

The Bears won the game 38-21. Layne was injured in the second quarter and did not return to action. The club said he suffered a severe concussion.

Slugging Is Charged

Anderson, in a three-page letter to Bell mailed tonight, said Meadows, a defensive end from Duke University, deliberately slugged Layne.

Meadows and Bears' officials have denied this.

"Meadows has a bad history," Anderson wrote, "and if you (Bell) will check the records you will find that he deliberately slugged Layne when he was with Pittsburgh last year."

"There is no place in pro football for a player like Meadows," Anderson continued, "and if you, as commissioner of our league, do not take severe action in this case and in other cases where quarterbacks are deliberately put out of commission, pro football will suffer immeasurably."

"This is not a case of sour grapes because the Bears won the game," Anderson wrote. "I think it is conceivable that with or without Layne, the Bears probably would have won."

The incident prompted Buddy Parker to talk about resigning after six seasons as head coach of the Lions.

Discussing what he called "a disastrous trend that is making pro football a slugging match," Parker said the game "has gotten far out of line because of deliberate and flagrant infractions."

No Penalty Called

No penalty was called on the play when Layne was injured. Meadows later was banished for unsportsmanlike conduct against Detroit's Bill Bowman.

Court To Tap Trust Fund For Louis' Taxes

Children's Fund Exceeds $66,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—The U. S. Tax Court, saying Joe Louis once spent money so freely he doesn't know where it all went, today ordered trust funds set up for his children applied to his huge tax debt.

The court said it couldn't determine what happened to the millions the former heavyweight champion earned in the ring. And it noted that his attorneys had commented "Louis himself doesn't have this knowledge."

Louis made an estimated $4,600,000 in purses while he ruled the world's heavyweight ranks from 1937 to 1949. His tax liability has been figured at more than a million dollars but his lawyers said last week he had recently paid the government substantial sums.

The trust funds affected by the ruling were established in 1947 and 1949 for two children, Jacqueline, 13, and Joe Jr., 9, of his marriage to Mrs. Marva Trotter Barrow Spaulding. Louis and his former wife were twice married and divorced. He has since married again.

The court said the funds, worth slightly more than $66,000, were created at a time he was heavily in debt to the government. Louis' former wife set them up, but the court said Louis was the "actual donor." It held his funds could not be transferred to the trusts while he owed federal income taxes he could not pay.

Tarheels Beat Maryland, 70-61

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Dec. 17—Slow paced Maryland used its delaying tactics to the fullest tonight but couldn't effectively halt North Carolina's high flying Tar Heels, who wrapped up a 70-61 win to take the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball lead.

It was North Carolina's fifth consecutive victory—three in the conference—and the first ACC loss for Maryland which had won two previously.

Holding Rosenbluth without a field goal for the first 16 minutes, the Tarps threw a 70-61 win to take the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball lead.

Hyndman Hosts LaSalle, Piedmont At Petersburg

Valley To Invade Oakland; Hawks At Ft. Ashby Tonight

Only one of Cumberland's three high school quints will be in action tonight and in that game LaSalle's Explorers will do battle with the Hyndman High School Hornets on the Pennsylvanians' court.

Hyndman has won four games in five starts while LaSalle will be striving to get into the .500 class, having won one of three games played to date.

Jolted by Piedmont and Keyser in their last two outings, Valley High School's Black Knights will invade Oakland tonight to play Southern High School. A victory would put Coach John Meyers' quint in the .500 class. Southern has lost to Beall and Bruce in its last two starts.

Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs (2-1) invade Mineral county to play Elk Garden tonight. The Elks have gotten off to a bad start, dropping their first three games to Piedmont, twice, and Ridgeley.

Piedmont Tests Vikings

Four Potomac Valley Conference contests are billed for tonight.

The top attraction is the Piedmont-Petersburg game at the Zulueta, the Cuban cutie, jabbed latter place. The Vikings have reeled off three wins in a row and own a 2-0 record in the conference. Piedmont's record is 3-1 for the season and 2-0 in the P.V.C.

Ridgeley High's Blackhaws (1-2) in the P.V.C. can crash the .500 circle with a victory over Fort Ashby but the Eagles (2-1) should make things interesting for the Blackhaws.

Capon Bridge (1-1) tackles the Paw Paw High Pirates (0-1) on the latter's court while West Virginia School for the Deaf, heading the race with a 3-0 record, looms too powerful for the Warriors in a game billed for Ward-ensville.

Greenbank At Franklin

Bayard is slated to play Mountaineer High School at Thomas. Parsons High's Panthers go after win No. 2 at Philippi. Northern High of Garrett county plays host to Salisbury, Pa., High. Circleville plays the Alumni and "Gus" Smith's high-flying Franklin Panthers (3-0) entertain Greenbank High School from Pocahontas

Redlegs Show Profit Of $276,528 For 1956

Attendance At Home Is Record 1,125,928

CINCINNATI, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs made a net profit of $276,528.72 in 1956, it was announced at a meeting of the board of directors today.

The club, which finished third in the National League race, had a record attendance of 1,125,928 at home, Gabe Paul, general manager, said. The old mark was 981,443, set in 1939, when the team finished first.

The team also played to 1,103,875 fans in the league's seven other cities, but that was not a record, the directors were told.

A total of $584,880.02 was paid out during 1956 for player development, purchase of contracts and for scouts' pay and expenses, according to the report.

It also was announced that a dividend of $8.00 per share of common stock had been voted last October.

The directors reelected all officers. They are: Gabe Paul, president; Gabe Paul, vice-president and general manager; Lewis Crosby, vice president; T. M. Conroy, secretary-treasurer, and W. P. Bramham, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.

Wonder Horse Goes To England For Stud

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 17 (AP)—Ribot, Italian wonder horse still unbeaten in his racing career, left by train today for England, where he will be at stud in the stables of Lord Derby.

The three-time winner of the Grand Prix de L'Arc de Triomphe, is traveling in a special French coach attached to a regular train. He is accompanied by two men who were instructed to let nobody near him. On his arrival at Dunquaque tomorrow, he will be transferred to a van to complete the trip.

Ribot is valued at more than one billion lire (about $1,500,000).

In order for him to leave Italy a special pass had to be obtained for Ribot from the Ministry of Foreign Trade in Rome. It is valid for one year.

Dons Halted By Illinois

60-Game Win Streak Is Snapped, 62-33

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 17 (AP)—Illinois ended San Francisco's record basketball string of 60 straight victories by topping the Dons 62-33 tonight.

Illinois, rated a top contender for the Big Ten championship, didn't give the two-time NCAA champions a chance.

The Illini bolted to an 8-0 lead. The closest the Dons could come was within five points at 12-7.

The Dons didn't score a basket until Mike Farmer hit with 3:35 gone.

Illinois held a 31-15 halftime lead.

George Bon Salle and Roger Taylor paced the Illini in the first half with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Bon Salle finished up with 19 points and took scoring honors. Art Day, 6-9 sophomore who has been billed a successor to All-America Bill Russell, scored only one point.

Colonials Down VMI Quint, 72-63

FT. MYER, Va., Dec. 17 (AP)—George Washington University broke into the win column tonight by defeating Virginia Military Institute 72-63 in a basketball game played before a slim crowd at Ft. Myer Gymnasium.

George Washington, led by guard Billy Telasky and forward John Jolly, got off to a flying start and the Colonials held a 36-22 advantage after the first 20 minutes of play.

Telasky dropped in 18 points while Jolly contributed 16.

Bill Coupland and Chuck MacLeod were high for the Keydets with 16 and 12 points respectively.

The victory gave GW a 1-1 record in Southern Conference competition, while the loss was the third against one victory for VMI.

Colgate Defeated
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 17 (AP)—Defending champion Wake Forest sparked by little guard Jackie Murdock's 18 points, six in the overtime period, tripped Colgate 66-59 tonight to gain the semifinals of the Carrousel Basketball Classic.

Hopman Sees Australians Winning Cup

Aussies' Captain Fears Vic Seixas

By WILL GRIMSLEY
PERTH, Australia, Dec. 17 (AP)—Harry Hopman said today he expects his Australians to defend the Davis Cup successfully against the United States later this month. But he still fears Vic Seixas.

"Vic is the type of player who can reach form quickly," said the little, sandy-haired captain of the Aussies. "Against the Indians he looked as if he was near peak form. He is a well conditioned athlete and a hard fighter."

Hopman said that whereas Seixas is able to turn on good and turn off bad form like the flick of a light switch, Herbie Flam, America's other senior player, has to work himself into shape through arduous training.

"Herbie certainly wasn't in his best shape against Ramanathan Krishnan," Hopman said. "It is easy to see that he couldn't play like that against Ken Rosewall or Lew Hoad and expect to come out as well. But he has a week to reach form and he may be able to do it."

The challenge round is scheduled Dec. 26-28 at Adelaide and, in conformity with tradition, both captains named their squads yesterday—10 days before the meeting.

Bill Talbert, U.S. captain, nominated Seixas and Flam, plus his youngsters, Sam Giamhalva, 21 and Mike Green, 19.

Hopman, surprising no one, named Hoad, Rosewall, Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper—the same squad which wrested the cup from America last year at Forest Hills.

Hopman said both Hoad and Rosewall are in top form and Lew is having no more trouble with his racket arm, which forced him to stay out of the New South Wales championships three weeks ago.

"I watched Lew last week and I don't think I have seen him play better," the Australian captain said.

Hopman says he is convinced Talbert will use Seixas and Flam in the singles and Seixas and Giamhalva in the doubles, although the American captain has maintained his lineup is "wide open."

"If Talbert had not planned to use Seixas and Flam against us he would not have used them against the Indians," Hopman said, referring to the interzone finals, which the Americans won 4-1. "He has to go with them."

$50,000 In Revenue
Talbert responded that the main objective of the U.S. team this year was to make the challenge round, which carries with it some $50,000 in revenue. He said that if defeat appears inevitable, the final matches may be used as a means of providing added experience for younger talent.

The U.S. Davis Cuppers depart for Adelaide tonight after the Davis Cup dinner.

Vaughn Attributes 3,192 Deer Kill To Heavy Population

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Maryland's record deer kill in 1956 was attributed today to a heavy population of whitetails rather than an unusual turnout of hunters.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Department of Game and Inland Fish, reported a kill of 3,192 deer so far this season compared with 2,660 during 1955.

Vaughn told the Natural Resources Board that this record total does not include final figures from Woodmont and Aberdeen Proving Ground, where extended seasons still are in progress.

He said the deer population throughout the state is heavier than ever before this year.

Bow and arrow marksmen accounted for 78 of the deer kill this year.

Garrett County led the way with a total kill of 660. Next in line was Allegany County with 570.

Hundley Is Best Tourney Player

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 17 (AP)—Rod Hundley of West Virginia was voted the most outstanding player in the Birmingham Classic Basketball Tournament Saturday night.

Hundley was the star of an all-tournament team picked by newsmen, coaches and officials. West Virginia won the championship by nosing Duke on a last-second field goal 83-82.

Hundley beat out Duke's Bob Vernon and Alabama's Jack Kubisyn for most outstanding player honors.

Other players named to the all-tournament team were Bob Kinnew of Mississippi Southern and Jody Sharrar and Kishbaugh, both of West Virginia.

McKendree Five Tops St. Philip

Emmanuel Methodist Defeats Park Place

McKendree Methodist tied Pentecostal Holiness for third place in the National Division of the Sunday School Basketball League by defeating St. Philip's Episcopal yesterday on the "Y" court by the score of 35-22.

The victory gave McKendree a 5-1 record for the season. St. Philip's suffered its third loss against four victories.

Pope paced the McKendree scorers with 21 points while Washington led St. Philip's with 10 tallies.

Emmanuel Methodist made its record 4-3 for the campaign by defeating Park Place Methodist, 30-26. Park Place has won two and lost four.

Twigg was the "big gun" for Emmanuel with 22 points. Hiser was high scorer for Park Place with 12 tallies.

Today at 6 p. m., First Baptist will play Trinity Methodist on the YMCA court. Lineups:

Harnwell Says Academic Authorities In Charge

Steve Gets 3-Year Pact; Scalp Sought By Three Groups

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17 (AP)—Penn football Coach Steve Sebo was signed to a new three year contract today as university President Dr. Gaylord Harnwell put teeth into the Ivy League manifesto that academic authorities not students, alumni or trustees are running athletic policies.

The 42-year-old Sebo was rehired despite bitter opposition by influential alumni, students and even some of the varsity football squad. These groups demanded Sebo's scalp and one group of students recently hanged him in effigy.

Authorities Responsible
Dr. Harnwell summed up the university's position when he said he was sure the alumni, trustees, students, faculty and administrative personnel would understand that "in accordance with university policy as stated in the Ivy group agreement, the academic authorities are responsible for the control of athletics."

Even as Harnwell's announcement was being delivered by the university's sports information director, the president addressed the football squad at a private meeting.

It was reported that Harnwell was asking the squad, many of whom indicated in polls they were against their coach's retention, to abide by the university's decision and give Sebo every cooperation in his effort to return Penn to the Eastern football pinnacle.

Wanted New Coach
Recent polls of the players, one conducted by the Daily Pennsylvanian—a campus newspaper — and the other by Athletic Director Jerry Ford, indicated a number of players felt Penn should hire a new coach. Sebo's three year contract expires this month.

Harnwell, however, with whom the final decision rested, decided that Sebo should be given a chance to prove his ability under fire with the solid football material now at his command and a schedule of opponents operating under equal academic and recruitment policies.

Sebo succeeded George Munger as Penn coach after the 1953 season and his first two teams lost 18 games in a row. Even Sebo's critics, however, admitted that Penn in 1954 and 1955 was playing the nation's best with sub-par material. Recruitment of football players during the last years of the Munger regime had been curtailed.

Won Four, Lost Five
This past season, Penn State whipped Penn in the season opener to run the losing streak to 19 straight. The following week, however, in its first formal Ivy League game, Penn upset Dartmouth 14-7. Penn wound up the 1956 season with four victories and five defeats, including a crushing loss to Cornell last Thanksgiving Day.

Garrett County led the way with a total kill of 660. Next in line was Allegany County with 570.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the illness and following the death of our mother and sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Cox, Luke, Md. We wish especially to thank Rev. Robert M. Campbell, Piedmont and Rev. Hugh Maynard, who conducted the funeral services. We thank the pallbearers and the flower bearers, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cox, Luke, Md. Mrs. Cora Montgomery, Westernport, Md.

In Memoriam

In memory of my darling husband, Charles R. Kane, who passed away 6 years ago today, December 18, 1950. We do not lose the ones we love—they only go before. Where there is everlasting life where sorrow is no more and peace is everywhere. We do not lose the ones we love. God takes them in his care. Your memory to me is a keepsake. With which I shall never part. Though God has you in his keeping I still have you in my heart. Sadly missed by your wife, Margaret Kane.

Parking Bond Study To Be Made By Firm

Traffic Survey May Be Conducted

A bond expert yesterday afternoon told officials of the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce his firm will investigate and try to work out a plan for financing off-street parking facilities here after warning they "couldn't have picked a worse time to finance" the facilities.

Meanwhile, plans will be considered for an engineering survey of parking and traffic problems which might alleviate the traffic situation here, and would be needed for any financing plan. Interest rates, said Carl C. Frech, of the Baltimore investment firm of Alexander Brown and Sons, are at a 25-year peak and there seems to be a lack of investor interest in general obligation bonds. Revenue parking bonds have never been considered as attractive as others, he said.

Facilities Needed

Mr. Frech was asked to come here to advise on the financing of parking facilities by former Judge William C. Walsh, a member of the law firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockbridge, Baltimore and this city, which advises the City of Cumberland on its bond problems.

Financing, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out at the joint meeting, overshadowed all other parking facility problems.

At present, the city has 454 metered parking spaces and another 460 spaces on private parking lots, or about 900 spaces, a number inadequate to serve a trading area of 200,000 people.

Merchants, he added, feel that the backers of shopping centers would capitalize on the lack of parking facilities here.

Questions Lease Plan

Under study, he said, is a proposed charter amendment which would set up a parking authority with broad powers, including the issuance of up to $750,000 of revenue bonds, condemnation, and leasing.

Judge Walsh said he questions whether the city's home rule powers include the right to finance a facility and lease it to private operators, but he said he thought it would be all right if the city were to operate it.

One thing investment people want to see, said Mr. Frech, is a traffic study made by a well-known engineer.

Replying to Mr. Frech's query about the possibility of financing by pledging the full faith and credit of the city, Mr. Finan said the city wants to save its "cushion" for several vital projects, such as flood control and street improvement.

Discuss Proposals

On the possibility of financing through benefit assessments, Mr. Frech said that might help and would look like a more direct interest than letting the issue stand on revenues alone. The drawback is that the assessments would use up part of the city's borrowing powers.

Also discussed was the plan being considered under which a firm would build and lease back from the city a facility to be built opposite City Hall. Cost of the facility would be about $432,000 plus another $90,000 to acquire land and replace Central Fire Station. The plan calls for the city to pledge parking revenues and the question has been raised of "putting all the eggs in one basket."

Mr. Frech suggested the name of a firm which makes parking studies and estimates income.

The lease clause in the authority plan was asked Frank Martin said, so as not to close the door to private enterprise.

Piedmont Names Representatives For Waste Talk

A Piedmont delegation was named last night to attend a second exploratory meeting at 10 a.m. Friday concerning the possibility of handling municipal waste in the $3,000,000 waste treatment plant proposed for the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mayor Rodney Baker, Councilman Joseph Maybury and Raymond C. Hudson, an insurance agent, were designated at the Piedmont council meeting to represent the West Virginia town in the Friday meeting at the Luke mill.

Water Commissioner Ray Wilt and Police Commissioner Leo Herbert represented Westernport in a meeting last Saturday morning with John A. Luke, mill manager, and several other representatives of the company.

Elementary Schools Here Offer Christmas Programs

At least one of the public elementary schools in Cumberland is having a Christmas musical program each day this week, according to W. Valgene Routh, supervisor of music education in the Allegany County public schools.

Gephart School led off with a program yesterday. Both East Side and John Humbird schools have entertainment this afternoon. The East Side program, at 1:30 p. m., today, will be presented by children of the first, second and third graders. The John Humbird program also will be offered by first, second and third graders. West Side, Centre Street and Columbia Street schools are scheduled Christmas programs Wednesday afternoon. The West Side rector, and William W. Sluss Jr., fifth and sixth graders, starting the "Living Christmas Tree" program with headquarters at Fort Hill in Baltimore. Vice chairman is J. Marshall Boone. School

City Approves Plan To Boost Use Of Buses

C Of C To Act On Proposal Thursday

The Mayor and Council yesterday afternoon pledged cooperation with the Cumberland Transit Lines in a program to encourage the greater use of public transportation in this city.

Action will be taken Thursday night by the Board of Directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, Charles S. Catherman Jr., president, told Guy M. Davis, owner of the lines.

The heart of the program, former Judge William C. Walsh explained, is to secure the support of the city, the Chamber of Commerce and local merchants on a program to encourage people to ride buses, instead of their own cars, downtown.

Take Up Space

Cars which lone shoppers drive downtown, Judge Walsh said, take up a great many of the available parking spaces.

One bus, he said takes up the space of about two cars on the streets but provides transportation for about 25 people.

Business people should be interested, he added, since they "want" people, not cars downtown.

Aside from the alleviation of traffic and parking congestion, the city has a stake in the program, Judge Walsh added, since the firm, like most bus companies, is in financial trouble.

Could Boost Service

The ultimate result — if the private company goes out — would mean that the city would have to get in the bus business or subsidize a private operator, he said.

Encouragement of bus transportation, Judge Walsh said, would also enable the Cumberland Transit Lines to improve service.

Mr. Davis told city officials the company is using signs and newspapers and radio advertising to encourage the public to use its buses.

Suspension Of Fireman Is Upheld

The three-day suspension of Pipeman Eugene P. Natale for disobeying an order of Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker has been sustained by the Civil Service Commission.

An appeal filed by the local fireman was heard by the Commission last Wednesday at City Hall. The order by Chief Parker was issued on November 21 and Pipeman Natale was notified through proper channels.

He was to report for duty in full uniform to Central Fire Station at 12:45 p. m. the following day, November 22, but failed to carry out the order.

Testimony was reviewed by the commission. After consideration the commission reported its findings as follows:

"The action taken by the Fire Chief and affirmed by the Commissioner of Police and Fire in the suspension of Pipeman Eugene P. Natale is hereby sustained."

The Commission, in a letter to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and Fire Chief Parker, pointed out that in the hearing the testimony showed that Pipeman Natale attempted to anticipate the nature of the duties for which he was being called and failed to obey the orders of his superior officers.

This is in violation of Sub-Section of (1) Section 36 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland entitled "Civil Service Police and Fire."

Equity Suit Filed

Hungarian Relief Fund Nears $900

Red Cross Still Seeks Donations

A contribution of $200 from the Kelly Employees' Charity Fund, for the special Hungarian Relief drive now being sponsored by the Red Cross, gave the local campaign a sizeable boost over the weekend.

According to C. M. Sanner, chapter chairman, a check for $200 was received from W. M. Peatrea, secretary-treasurer of the Kelly plant fund, with a request that it be allocated according to area quotas.

Last night, Red Cross volunteers placed collection booths in the First National Bank and First Federal Savings and Loan Association during the two hours of evening operation. A total of $22.85 was dropped into the two containers. At Rosenbaum's store, where a booth is manned each day during the campaign, another $20 was collected yesterday.

Total is $886.85. The total collections to date amount to $886.85, Mr. Sanner noted. The county quota is $2,630.

It is evident that interest in the drive is lagging, and the Red Cross Chapter here, along with the several branches in the county, is renewing the appeal for aid.

The plight of the "freedom-fighters" in Hungary is desperate, and thus far, the Red Cross is the only agency recognized by the Hungarian government and permitted to distribute food, clothing and medical supplies there. At the same time, the Red Cross is the agency directly responsible under its charter for bringing emergency aid and comfort to the refugees who escape the country.

The check from the Kelly Springfield Tire Company employees' fund is the first of several expected from organizations who maintain this type of charitable giving. However, Red Cross officials say that the gifts will be far from sufficient to reach the county quota and more individuals are urged to mail a contribution. Even nominal gifts, a dollar, or less, from enough people, will help untold suffering among the Hungarians.

Donations Divided

The Kelly check, is divided by the employee group, allocated $168 to Allegany County; $2 to Garrett County; $8 to Mineral County; $4 to Hampshire County; $14 to Bedford County; and $4 to Somerset County. This distribution is based upon the residences of the Kelly employees.

Allegany County's share is divided among the several branches of the Red Cross chapter, so it can apply to their respective quotas. For example, Cumberland is allocated 50 per cent; Ellerslie one per cent; Flintstone, three per cent; and Oldtown and Cresaptown two per cent each. All of these are part of the Cumberland chapter and total 58 per cent or $97.44.

Frostburg gets 16 per cent or $26.88; Mt. Savage, seven per cent or $11.76; Lonaconing, four per cent or $10.08; Ridgeley, four per cent or $6.72; Midland, three per cent or $5.04; Westernport, Barton, and Eckhart each two per cent or $3.36.

Ridgeley Legion Christmas Events Will Be Discussed

The distribution of Christmas baskets to deserving families and the annual Christmas treat for the children of Ridgeley will be discussed tonight during a meeting of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, in that community.

Archie Lough, commander, said the meeting will begin at 8 p. m., and he is urging the general membership to attend. The names of persons who will be given the baskets will be screened during the meeting.

A chimney has been placed just inside the Legion Home and is being used for a collection point where members and friends may deposit staple foods for the deserving families.

William Knieriem, chairman of the Child Welfare Committee, and also head of the basket distribution program, will give a report tonight.

Celanese Advisory Council To Meet

Two officials of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, will attend a Celanese Advisory Council meeting today in the TWUA's Washington office.

They are Melvin Harris, president, and Charles F. Davis, secretary-treasurer of the Celanese local here.

Attending will be officials of all Celanese locals, who will plan strategy to be used in upcoming contract reopening talks.

Holiday Schedule

Magistrate Morris Baron announced yesterday that Juvenile Court will be closed Monday and Tuesday of each of the next two weeks to observe the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

He said, however, that the court secretary will be in his office this Saturday and next Saturday, December 29, from 9 a. m. to noon to handle collections of payments made through the court.

Becomes Shriner At 85

John Edward Patterson, retired Kelly-Springfield Tire Company millwright, 523 Memorial Avenue, is being welcomed as a member of Ali Ghan Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., by John Brennenman, potentate, at the Holiday Ceremonial Saturday when a class of 40 candidates was initiated. Mr. Patterson is the oldest Mason to join Ali Ghan Temple. A native of Bethlehem, Pa., Mr. Patterson worked on the railroad before going to the Kelly plant, where he served for 24 years until he was 73. He is the father of seven boys and three girls and two of the boys are Shriners. He is a member of Cumberland Consistory, Scottish Rite Bodies, and has been a member of Bayonne, N. J., Lodge No. 99, A. F. and A. M. for 60 years.

State Electors Cast Votes To Re-Elect Eisenhower

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin told Maryland's nine presidential electors today that their action was "of significance and of importance to all the world."

The nine Republicans voted by roll call for re-election of President Eisenhower.

They were part of the 531-member electoral college which balloted today in state capitals throughout the nation.

The U.S. Constitution provides that the electors, equaling the number of senators and representatives each state has in Congress, are free to vote as they please. But it is the custom for an elector to cast his vote for the candidate receiving the highest popular vote in his state.

Eisenhower carried Maryland by a record-breaking margin of 187,134 votes in the Nov. 6 general election. He polled 559,737 votes to 372,603 for Adlai E. Stevenson, his Democratic opponent.

Original Supporter

McKeldin said he was "one of the original and consistent supporters of President Eisenhower and his policies" and was "happy, of course," that his re-election was being made official.

"But let me assure you," the governor said, "that if the situation had been reversed and if you were here today to vote for those who ran in opposition . . . I still would be here to extend my enthusiastic welcome and to speak words of congratulations. Because above and beyond the official and essential action of the electoral college there is a magnificent symbolism which means much to this republic and to the states and commonwealths of which it is composed."

"It is important, too," McKeldin said, "that we be reminded, from time to time, that it is the states which elect the chief executive of the nation—not as a single unit—but as separate and individual bodies of electors."

Receive Oaths

Maryland's electors, chosen at the Republican State Convention in May, received their oath of office from James L. Young, chief deputy clerk of the Court of Appeals.

They elected Thomas B. R. Mudd of La Plata chairman and Mrs. Tracy Moos of Baltimore secretary.

The two electors at large were Mudd and Samuel Hopkins of Baltimore. Representing the Congressional districts, one through seven, were Elmer W. Sterling of Church Hill, Mrs. Isabel Ritchey of Owings Mills, C. Edwin Roberts of Baltimore, George Douglas of Baltimore, Norwood Brown of Parole, Mrs. Esther Fleishell of Silver Spring and Mrs. Moos.

Mudd read a telegram inviting the electors to witness the opening of their ballots at a joint session of Congress Jan. 7.

Man Is Fined $25 After Car Is Hit By Train

Magistrate J. Milton Dick fined Arthur Miller of near Rawlings $25 and costs yesterday on a charge of reckless driving at a hearing in Trial Magistrates Court here.

The charge was placed against Miller by State Police and B&O Railroad officials after Miller's car was struck by a fast freight engine near Black Oak on December 11.

Testimony showed Miller attempted to drive across the main line of the railroad at a private crossing and had to make a sharp turn. His automobile wheels became wedged in soft dirt and he abandoned the vehicle shortly after 5 p. m.

The defendant told the court he could not move the car, which had its rear wheels across the railroad tracks. After waiting for some time, Miller said, he decided there would be no trains along and he left the scene.

At 6:13 p. m., railroad officials stated, the eastbound St. Louis freight No. 94 struck the empty automobile. Fortunately, they added, the diesel engine was not derailed. More than $200 damage was done to Miller's car.

Miller said he went home and went to bed when he couldn't move his two-door sedan.

Magistrate Dick told the defendant he had not taken into consideration the fact that the collision might have been more serious and that someone could have been hurt or killed through his negligence.

Miller pleaded guilty to the charge.

Sgt. Ross Goshorn of the B&O police and Tfc. D. A. Tucker of the Maryland State Police investigated the accident.

Unity Is Subject Of Talk At Meeting Of Ministers

"The Nature of the Unity that We Seek" was discussed yesterday during a meeting of the Cumberland Ministerial Association at Central YMCA.

The guest speaker was Rev. Dr. Jacob W. Heikkinen, professor of New Testament language, literature and theology at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa.

He stressed the Ecumenical Movement through the years, and said the word unity is an important word on the lips of many movements today. Catholic and Protestant, political and social. Many persons, according to Rev. Dr. Heikkinen, approach the subject of unity on many levels in a spirit of deep skepticism and cynicism, believing that unity is a dream and never can become a reality.

Winfield Adam, secretary of the association, who is resigning the position of secretary of Central YMCA, was honored at yesterday's monthly meeting.

Rev. Maurice Robertson, president of the ministerium, announced the next meeting will be held January 21.

A representative of the American Chemical Society will discuss the possibility of the establishment of a liberal arts college in Western Maryland.

NRB Continues Stand Against C&O Parkway

Park Service Again Considers Plans

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Board of Natural Resources today reaffirmed its stand in opposition to proposed construction of a federal highway along the old C. & O. canal right-of-way from Cumberland to Washington.

Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks, said plans for a recreational parkway—previously dropped—are being considered again by the National Park Service which owns the narrow strip of land along the Maryland side of the Potomac River.

Lester N. Townner of Towson said such a road would be an "iron curtain" between Marylanders and the Potomac and would result in Maryland losing control of the river.

Concerns Potomac

Maryland owns the Potomac to the Virginia shore.

Most other business at the board's regular meeting also concerned the Potomac.

John P. Tawes, chairman of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, told the board members "there is no illegal oystering on the Potomac for the first time in 25 years."

Tawes said there have been no reports of illegal dredging since a flareup in the "shooting war" Dec. 8.

Acting on recommendation of L. Eugene Cronin, director of the Department of Research and Education, the board approved a design by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for a fishway to be installed on the dam under construction at Little Falls.

Joseph T. Singewald Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, said Fairfax County, Va., and the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission have applied for permits to use water from the Potomac.

Permits Held Up

Singewald said the Legislative Council's Committee on the Potomac had asked that all permits be withheld until after the 1957 session of the General Assembly. He said his department is awaiting the attorney general's ruling on whether the two applicants — if given permits—would be bound by any new conditions the Legislature might enact.

William H. Bayliff, board secretary, reported that a group of Virginia citizens is seeking a permanent injunction to prohibit the removal of sand and gravel from along the Virginia bank of the Potomac.

Choir To Sing Cantata Friday At Fort Hill

A cantata "Child Jesus" by Clokey and Kirk will be sung by the Fort Hill High School choir at a Christmas assembly in the school auditorium at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Miss Mary M. Robb, director of the choir, said that cantata consists of 11 selections. Randolph Miller and Paul Alkire will narrate the cantata.

"The Promise" by the entire choir is the first selection. It will be followed by "The Annunciation" featuring the voices of Randolph Miller, John Clark and Gertrude Berry.

After the choir presents "The Apparition To The Shepherds" Darrell Henry and Randolph Miller will sing "The Adoration of The Shepherds." Girls in the choir will follow by singing "The Star."

The next selection, "The Wise Men," will feature solos by Nathan Wasser, George Windish and Joel Smith. The voices of Michael Holcomb, Constance Sanson and Barbara Lippold will be heard in the next selection, "At The Manger."

"Mary's Lullaby" will highlight the singing of Margaret Connor, Barbara Lippold, Gertrude Berry, Paula Butts and Nancy Curry. "The Song of Devotion" will be a solo by James Diggs. "The Child Jesus" will be a trio, sung by Margaret Connor, Constance Sanson and Robert Harbaugh. The finale will be "Adeste Fideles."

Tableaux for the cantata are being prepared by the speech department under the direction of Miss Helen S. Smith.
